

APPENDICES

These appendices are intended for use in conjunction with the technical report. Appendix A provides the estimates of economic losses and health care costs due to premature mortality associated with extreme temperatures and air quality for the selected cities under historical observed and future projected climates. Since the coefficients of economic loss and health care cost due to premature mortality used in this study were derived from another study, this part of the analysis was placed in an appendix.

Appendices B–D present some figures and tables for Montreal, Ottawa, and Windsor, respectively, not shown in the main body of the text due to space limitations. To effectively link with the main body of the text, figures and tables in the appendices are numbered the same as those in the main body.
