WHEREAS three out of the four designated units are presently operating as motor vehicle repair shops; and

Minutes of the Etobicoke York Community Council
Tuesday, June 13, 2006

WHEREAS the 1992 building permit (No. 336-381) that was issued by the City of Toronto for the construction of unit 193 Geary Avenue identified automobile related uses as the intended use; and

WHEREAS in 1996 the City of Toronto passed an interim control by-law for parts of Geary Avenue, and subsequently the street was the subject of a zoning by-law amendment, that among other things, deleted several automobile related uses from the list of permitted uses; and

WHEREAS By-Law 438-86 was amended to prohibit automobile repair shops in the area, including 193 Geary Avenue; and

WHEREAS on January 21, 1999 building permit No. 420-994 was issued to make interior alterations to an existing automobile service and repair shop; and

WHEREAS on January 29, 1999 Lisgar Motors applied to the Toronto Licensing Commission for a license to operate a “public garage; repairs; used car sales 1-5”; and

WHEREAS on February 12, 1999, the Toronto Licensing Commission wrote to the owners of the Lisgar Motors (Mr. Almeida and Carvalho) advising that the proposed use is not permitted by zoning by-law No. 438-86, however, this position was subsequently reversed, and the purchasers were issued a license; and

WHEREAS the sale of the unit from DIAS to 893531 Ontario Limited (present owners/operators) was completed on March 26, 1999; and

WHEREAS by way of letter dated April 15, 1999, the previous owner, Mr. Dias was advised by the Deputy Chief Building Official and Director of Building, South District, that building permit No. 420-994 that had been issued to make interior alterations to an existing automobile service and repair shop had been revoked on the grounds that it was issued on mistaken information; and

WHEREAS the present owners/operators have retained a real estate agent that has been assisting them in their active search for adequate, leasehold premises to relocate to following the end of the temporary use period, but did not found anything suitable to date and the owners throughout this time have suffered significant financial hardship in trying to legitimize the auto repair uses on the premises; and

WHEREAS because they have been unable to find an alternative location, the owners/operators will be forced to close down their business, a business that provides the sole support for their young families; and

Tuesday, June 13, 2006

WHEREAS the current owners purchased the site in good faith recognized by the Ontario Municipal Board in its decision dated January 10, 2003, which states, “the Board is not OBLIVIOUS of the fact that these owners are in some way, the ‘victims’ of circumstances as they were unaware of the intricacy of the process and it is apparent that there has been mishaps in the building permits”; and

WHEREAS the “Board is also cognizant that when the subject premises were designed and built, the auto use was permitted and that when the heavy armoury of an Interim control By-law and ‘downzoning’ are being deployed, some innocent bystanders may be prejudicially affected as in fact this case seems to demonstrate”; and

WHEREAS a petition was received with over 300 names of people acknowledging that the proprietors of Lisgar Motors do not negatively interfere or hinder their businesses, residences or the overall condition of the neighbourhood; and

WHEREAS the Courts, following upon the decision of the Ontario Municipal Board made an order that the owners shall not, after March 10, 2006, use the property at 193 Geary Avenue, Toronto, for the purpose of a motor vehicle repair shop, Class A, that the use cease following the expiry of the Temporary Use By-law which has now expired; and

WHEREAS in the unique circumstances of this case and provided the use as currently exists and subject to the conditions the Ontario Municipal Board imposed regarding parking continues to be provided, should not be seen as a precedent for other such uses and as the public will be heard from at the Planning Act public meeting in this matter,

- (1) prepare a draft amending by-law(s) as may be required to permit one automobile service and repair shop on the property municipally known as 193 Geary Avenue, in the former City of Toronto, on a permanent basis, provided that parking, as currently required to be provided in accordance with the requirements of the General Manager of Transportation Services and the Ontario Municipal Order respecting these lands, continues to be provided and maintained for the sole use of 193 Geary Avenue;
