SUMMARY

This report requests Council’s authority to appoint seven citizen members and two members of the Friends of Fort York to the Fort York Community Museum Management Board.

Terms of Board members are coincident with Council terms. In 2006, a recruitment process was initiated to appoint the nine citizen members of the board. Applications were made available through existing boards and committees, community centres and libraries, were advertised in the U of T Bulletin, on the City’s website and on the websites of the Volunteer Centre of Toronto and Charity Village. The Multicultural History Society of Ontario was hired to recruit and submit the names of qualified candidates from the diverse communities across the city, and a public information session was held. Review panels were established for each board to consider applications, conduct interviews and make recommendations regarding the candidates best qualified to fill the vacancies.

Schedule A to Chapter 103, Heritage, Toronto Municipal Code, states that the Fort York Community Museum Management Board be comprised of seven citizen members, two representatives from the Friends of Fort York, one representative from the Toronto

District School Board, one representative from the Toronto Catholic School Board and one to two members of City Council.

ISSUE BACKGROUND

At its meeting of November 23, 24 and 25, 1999, Council established By-law No. 793-1999, which created nine Community Museum Boards (CMMBs). Each Community Council is to nominate the membership of the CMMBs in its jurisdiction with the exception of the Fort York Board; the Collections, Conservation and Shared Resources Board and the Historic Houses Board where membership is to be nominated by the Economic Development Committee.

COMMENTS

All citizens seeking appointment or reappointment to the Community Museum Boards are required to make an application, participate in an interview and selection process designed to determine the most qualified candidates and be appointed by Council or Community Council.

The review panel met on February 13th and February 5th, 2007, to interview 10 applicants. The review panel has recommended the appointment of the seven citizens listed on Attachment No. 1 as individuals who will bring energy, knowledge and skill to the work of the Fort York Community Museum Management Board.

The Friends of Fort York have recommended the appointment of two of their members as listed on Attachment No. 1 to the Fort York Community Museum Board.
