Construction signage for Water Infrastructure

Dear Councillor de Baeremaker

The City of Toronto is making massive improvements to our aging infrastructure not only to meet the service expectations of Toronto residents but also to plan ahead for extreme weather events associated with climate change.

Currently, some of the most significant investments are being made in water and wastewater infrastructure. In this division of the City, some of the infrastructure is up to 100 years old and is unable to meet the stress of the population of our City. It is important for our residents to learn about these investments that the City is making with their property tax dollars.

I believe the current signage identifying these significant investments could better tell this good news in a more engaging manner.

I would request that the General Manager, Toronto Water, in collaboration with the Director of Strategic Communications report on options to enhance Toronto Water construction signage to highlight the city's efforts to renew aging water and wastewater infrastructure.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Paula Fletcher
