11a Mental Health Commission of Canada Research Demonstration Project: Request for Authority to Implement Toronto Site Project and Provide National Streets to Homes Training

Origin

(April 9, 2009) Report from General Manager, Shelter, Support and Housing Administration

Summary

Shelter, Support and Housing Administration (SSHA), in partnership with the Centre for Research on Inner City Health at St. Michael's Hospital (CRICH), has been selected to undertake a four-year, approximately $22,500,000 research demonstration project, under a national program of the Mental Health Commission of Canada (MHCC), to examine and document the benefits of certain service models on the health and well being of mentally ill homeless individuals (approximately $9.4M will be directed to the providers of support services, about $4M will be directed to CRICH for the research component, and the remaining $9.1M allocated to SSHA). This report requests certain authorities be granted to permit SSHA to proceed with implementation of the demonstration project.

In addition, the Streets to Homes Unit of SSHA has been requested to support the MHCC as a National Trainer on the Streets to Homes Intensive Case Management (ICM) model for all demonstration project sites across Canada. This report requests certain authorities be granted to permit staff to take on the national trainer role, including entering into an agreement for funding anticipated to be in the range of $400,000 over four years.
