Dear Chair,

Muffling of Motorcycle Noise

Earlier this month Edmonton City Council passed a bylaw that gives police the tools necessary to crack down on the excessive noise made by motorcycles.

Under the new bylaw owners can face fines of up to $250 if their bikes exceed 92 decibels while idling or 96 decibels while engaged.

I am writing to the Committee to request a report looking at the feasibility of implementing such a bylaw in the City of Toronto.

Sincerely,

Denzil Minnan-Wong
