

Notice of Motion for North York Community Council

Re: Housekeeping Motion

Once again the North York Civic Centre is suffering from a lack of basic maintenance. The “Birds in Flight” mobile that hangs in the elevator foyer has not been cleaned for many years. Public Art, once installed needs to be maintained. The wall hanging on the Lower Level in front of the elevators looks like it has never been cleaned. $967,100 is being spent to renovate the Toronto City Hall wedding chapel and yet only superficial maintenance has been done on the North York Chapel. Frankly it looks more like a place to get buried than a place to get married. (Perhaps some don’t see the distinction.)

Recommendations:

1. The “Birds in Flight” be cleaned.
2. The wall hanging on the lower level in front of the elevator doors be cleaned.
3. The carpeting be replaced in the North York Civic Centre wedding chapel and something be done to make it less funereal.
