

Event: Celebrate Toronto
Date: March 5th – 6th, 2017
Location: Nathan Phillips Square
Website: www.celebratetoronto.ca
Contact: info@celebratetoronto.ca
Direct: Micayla Doria (416) 902-3973

Request: Event of Municipal Significance

Toronto: a city that stands out and stands tall to the world.

As the financial capital of Canada, Toronto is a vibrant, growing infrastructure of multi-national corporations. The many professional sports teams make Toronto a proud competitor on the world's stage. Reputable as an international entertainment hub, Toronto is an inviting and opportunistic environment for Canadian film, television, and music. Toronto is a national beacon of diversity and sophistication, showcasing significant global artifacts and artworks in our acclaimed Provincial museums and countless galleries. With expansive parklands and waterfronts, Toronto is home to universal wildlife and a revered place of tourism.

To the local residents, Toronto stands for the multicultural, the new, the daring, the artistic, the young professional, the conscious-minded striving for a better tomorrow. With focus on what our city has been, is and will be, Celebrate Toronto is the celebration of the city's fundamental past, the evolving present and its promising future. Nonprofit organization, Celebrate Toronto, collaborates with local artists, entertainers, and businesses in celebrating Toronto's "Past, Present, and Future" while highlighting its accomplishments and diversity. Our goal is to bring the city together in pride of their home.

On March 5th 2017 from 11:00am – 11:00pm, and March 6th 2017 from 11:00am – 11:00pm Celebrate Toronto will welcome the city's 183rd Anniversary with a festival hosted at Nathan Phillips Square that will be open and free to the public to engage with local vendors, entertainers, and artists while celebrating our city's 183rd Anniversary. The festival will include live performances of local bands, pop-up galleries featuring Toronto based artwork, as well as highlighting other non-profits that help better the city. We work towards informing and inspiring others to make a positive impact in our city and enriching the lives of those within it. A full festival schedule will be available online at www.celebratetoronto.ca in February 2017.

It's time to Celebrate Toronto.

Micayla Doria
Founder/CEO
Celebrate Toronto