

Ruby-throated Hummingbird

Total collected by FLAP volunteers – 746 between 1993 & Spring 2006

The only species of hummingbird that breeds in eastern North America, the Ruby-throated Hummingbird is found throughout the eastern deciduous and mixed forests. They fly nonstop across the Gulf of Mexico to winter in Central America.

credit: Terry Flynn

