

For Immediate Release

LOVE, SEX and THE DIFFERENCE Scotiabank Nuit Blanche 2007

(TORONTO) --- The Small Gallery proudly presents the artwork of over fifteen artists from the African-Canadian community as part of Toronto's Scotiabank Nuit Blanche.

- Who: The artists who will be participating are Jason O'Brien, Carlos Ferguson, Ato Seito, Lenn Erskine, Sonia Farquharson, Georgia Fullerton, Cheryl Rock, Jude Ifeseih, Tabitha Lewis, Sheldon Colthrust, Philemon Campbell, Tricia Douglas, Robert Small, David Kibuuka and Dwayne Morgan.
- Where: The Small Gallery, 675 King St. West, Suite 208, (King/Bathurst)
- When: Saturday September 29th to Sunday September 30th
- Time: 7:03pm to sunrise
- What: Fifteen artists tackle the taboo subject of "love", "sex" and "the difference" between the two in a collection of paintings, photographs and drawings.
- Cost: Free admission

LOVE, SEX and THE DIFFERENCE is an art show that approaches a taboo subject within the African-Canadian community from a creative angle. Fifteen artists create work related to the theme and allows the public to render their own comments and opinions of what they observe. This show will also be interactive. There will be canvases for the public to express and paint their thoughts. There will also be spoken word artists, food and musicians.

Local artist Robert Small owns The Small Gallery. Small is best known for creating The Official Black History Month Poster and LEGACY (www.thesmallgallery.ca).

For more information, contact Robert Small at (416) 265-6428 or by email at contact@thesmallgallery.ca.