Project Title

Toronto Film Centre

Address

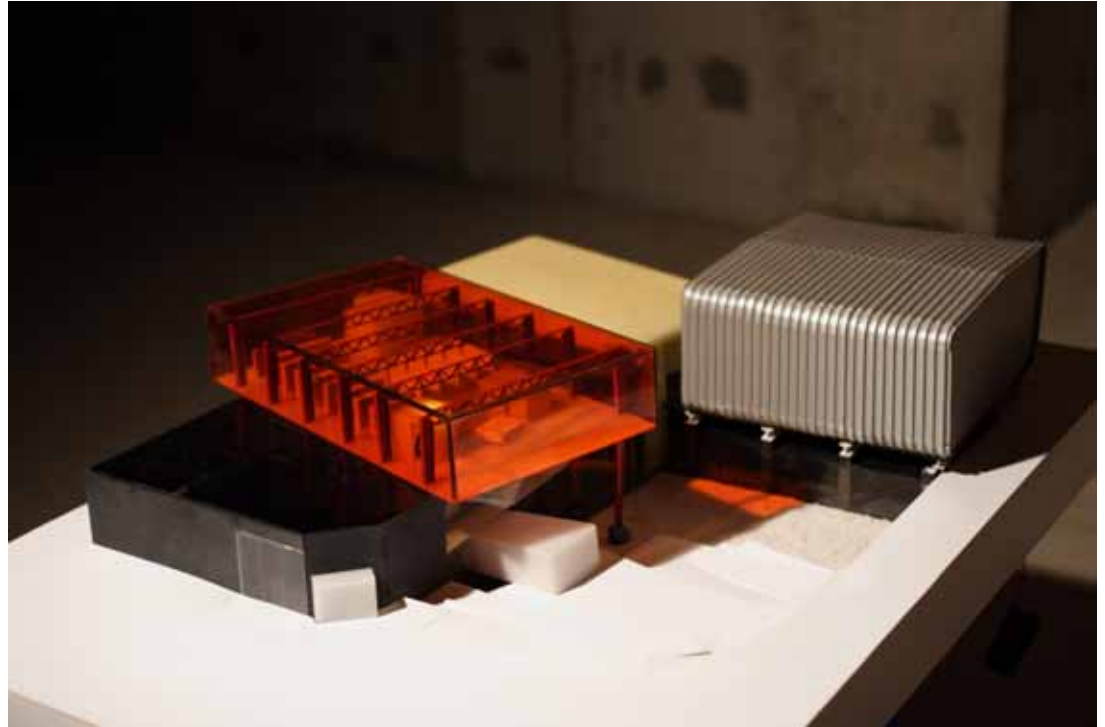

162 Queens Quay East

This film centre acts as an insightful and dynamic social space in the city to establish a venue of culture, education and entertainment to widen people's acquaintance with films. It is designed for a series of film events to encourage a cultural and educational experience of this diversionary entertainment. The program of the film centre will create an enthusiastic experience for everyone who wants to explore the history, present and future of film. Like the production of a film by the cooperation of different crews, the building is composed of individual components working together. This provides an industry-driven environment, with practical filmmaking technology and médiathèque laboratory, to cultivate, animate and galvanize the relationship between film and society.
