

Compost. Bring new life to your garden.

Is your yard taking on a life of its own?

Try composting. Toss plant cuttings, brush, leaves and grass clippings into your bin.

Household waste works too, so add fruit and vegetable peels, coffee grinds, egg shells and even dryer lint into the mix.

This is how it breaks down: help us by streamlining your waste at home and help yourself to some nutrient-rich fertilizer.

Your gardens have never looked so lively.
