10.7 Condition Critical: Fixing Our Smog Warning System – Summary Report.

The Board of Health had before it a report (October 15, 2001) from the Medical Officer of Health, providing a brief summary of the report entitled "Condition Critical: Fixing Our Smog Warning System" and seeking Board approval of the recommendations based on that report; advising that there are no financial implications resulting from the adoption of this report; and recommending that the Board of Health:

- (1) request that the Ontario Minister of the Environment improve the Air Quality Index (AQI) and smog advisory notification system as set out in the report Condition Critical: Fixing our Smog Warning System by:
 - (a) restructuring the AQI system to make it a more accurate indicator of health concerns by:
 - (i) adding fine particulates (PM₁₀ and/or PM_{2.5}) to the mix of pollutants used to calculate the AQI;
 - (ii) updating the Ambient Air Quality Criteria (AAQC) for nitrogen dioxide, carbon monoxide and sulphur dioxide to reflect current research on the human health effects associated with these air pollutants; and
 - (iii) developing a new formula to calculate AQI values that takes into account the total pollutant contributions for each given hour;
 - (b) restructuring the AQI messaging system by:
 - (i) emphasizing that the AQI is a continuous scale in which health risk increases as the AQI number increases;
 - (ii) re-naming "Air Quality Advisories" as "Smog Alerts" to increase public understanding that serious air pollution episodes are occurring;

Board of Health Minutes
Monday, November 26, 2001

- (iii) discontinuing the practice of describing air quality as “good” or “very good” when the AQI is less than 32;
 - (iv) replacing the current AQI classifications (very good, good, moderate, poor and very poor) with more appropriate classifications (background, low, medium, high and smog alert) by May 2002;
 - (v) continuing to forecast and trigger “air quality advisories” or “smog alerts” when some predetermined AQI value (such as a regulatory standard) is exceeded; and
 - (vi) developing a special messaging system that alerts sensitive populations (such as the elderly, children and those with respiratory and cardiac problems) to AQI values that pose increased health risks; and
- (c) accelerating the implementation of province-wide continuous monitoring of fine particulates (PM₁₀ and/or PM_{2.5});
- (2) request that the Government of Ontario ensure that sufficient resources are made available to the Ministry of the Environment to implement continuous monitoring of fine particulates across the province, and to improve the Air Quality Index (AQI) as outlined in recommendation 1;
 - (3) request that the federal and provincial Ministers of Health provide the federal and provincial Ministers of the Environment with updated information on the adverse health effects anticipated at different Air Quality Index (AQI) values based on current national and international health studies;
 - (4) request that the federal Minister of the Environment ensure that the proposed new national Air Quality Index (AQI) for Canada includes fine particulates and encompasses a health effects warning system that accurately conveys the health risk associated with AQI values for both the general population and more sensitive sub-populations;
 - (5) convey to the federal and provincial Ministers of the Environment that the Toronto Medical Officer of Health has offered to assist in the review of improved health messaging associated with the Air Quality Index (AQI);
 - (6) forward this report to the GTA Clean Air Council, all health units in Ontario, the Ontario Public Health Association, the Canadian Public Health Association; the Canadian, Ontario and New Brunswick Lung Associations; the Association of Municipalities of Ontario, and the Federation of Canadian Municipalities for their information and action as appropriate; and

- (7) request that the appropriate city officials be authorized and directed to take the necessary action to give effect thereto.

The Board of Health also had before it a communication (November 23, 2001) from Helen Riley, Feet on the Street, in support of the recommendations of the Medical Officer of Health.

Councillor Mihevc appointed Councillor Bussin Acting Chair, and vacated the Chair.

On motion by Mr. Zaslofsky, the Board of Health adopted the aforementioned report from the Medical Officer of Health.
