SCHEDULE “A”

REASONS FOR DESIGNATION

Description:

The property at 322 Dundas Street West is worthy of designation under Part IV of the Ontario Heritage Act for its cultural heritage value or interest. Located on the north side of Dundas Street West, west of McCaul Street, the 2½-storey detached house form building was first recorded on the tax assessment rolls in September 1879 when it was shown as a vacant house owned by John MacMahan. The house was occupied by September 1881, with Dr. Inglis Lough as the tenant of the MacMahan Estate. The design of the house is virtually identical to its neighbours to the east at #318 Dundas (Joseph Adams House) and the west at #324 (James Goulding House). All three properties were listed on the City of Toronto Inventory of Heritage Properties in 1973, and the property at #318 Dundas was designated under Part IV of the Ontario Heritage Act in 1986 by By-law No. 36-86.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value:

The cultural heritage value of the property at 322 Dundas Street West is related to its design or physical value as a representative example of late 19th century residential housing in the Second Empire style that displays a high degree of craftsmanship. Popular for residential housing in the late 1800s, the style is identified by the distinctive mansard (or double-sloped) roof with elaborate decorative detailing.

The cultural heritage value of the Inglis Lough House also relates to its contextual value as part of an intact group of late 19th century house form buildings that defines, maintains and supports the character of Dundas Street West in the Grange neighbourhood west of University Avenue.

Heritage Attributes:

The heritage attributes of the Inglis Lough House related to its cultural heritage value as a representative example of late 19th century residential housing in the Second Empire style displaying a high degree of craftsmanship are found on the principal (south) façade and the south slope of the roof above this wall, consisting of:

- The 2½ storey plan above a raised base with a window opening.
- The application of buff brick (now painted) with buff brick, stone and wood detailing.
- The mansard roof with decorative shingles, extended eaves with dentils, and gabled dormers with pediments and wood detailing above a projecting wood cornice with moulding, dentils and trios of brackets.

- The organization of the south façade into two bays with the main entrance elevated in the right (east) bay; the segmental-arched entrance with a hood mould, stone keystone and transom (the original door has been replaced and the open wood porch with Classical detailing is not original); above the entry, the single segmental-arched window opening and, in the left (west) bay, the two-storey three-sided bay window; and, the brick hood moulds, carved stone keystones and stone sills on the window openings.

The side elevations (east and west) are devoid of detailing and, with the rear (north) wall, are not included in the Reasons for Designation.
