THE AUDIT FRAMEWORK AT THE CITY OF TORONTO

In May 2002, City Council approved an independent Auditor General’s Office for the City of Toronto in conjunction with the implementation of a new audit framework. The City of Toronto Act, 2006 (the Act) subsequently formalized the establishment of the Auditor General. Section 177 of the Act requires that “The City shall appoint an Auditor General”.

The 2002 audit framework established three levels of audit services for the City of Toronto. This framework is consistent with best practices in most major cities.

(1) The Auditor General’s Office was created in order to report directly to and provide assurance strictly for City Council. The Act has not changed this requirement.

(2) A separate Internal Audit Division reporting to the City Manager was established to provide assurance and management consulting advice for the City’s Executive Management Team. While the establishment of an Internal Audit function is not a legislative requirement, it does represent best practice and is consistent with practices in other large government organizations.

(3) As required by the Act, an external auditor is appointed by City Council to perform the annual statutory audit of the City’s financial statements including Agencies, Boards and Commissions and provide an opinion on the fairness of the information presented in these financial statements.

In addition to the audit framework within the City, there are separate and distinct audit functions in two of the City’s major local Boards; the Toronto Transit Commission and the Toronto Police Service. Both of these audit functions operate in much the same way as the City’s Internal Audit Division and report directly to the Chief General Manager of the TTC and the Chief of Police respectively.
The Auditor General’s Office

City of Toronto Act and the Auditor General

City of Toronto Bylaw 1076-2002 enacted in 2002, and set out in Chapter 169 of the Municipal Code, established the Auditor General’s Office, duties and responsibilities. As indicated above, the City of Toronto Act mandates the appointment of an Auditor General who reports to City Council. Under Section 178 (1) of the Act “the Auditor General is responsible for assisting City Council in holding itself and city administrators accountable for the quality of stewardship over public funds and for achievement of value for money in city operations.”

The Internal Audit Division – City Manager’s Office

Internal audit function

The Internal Audit Division reports to the City Manager and is responsible for providing internal audit services and support to senior management in the City. The internal audit function provides consulting services designed to improve the administration of municipal operations and promotes compliance with City policies and procedures.

External Annual Financial Audits

Annual audit of City’s financial statements

Under Section 139 of the Act, the City is required to appoint an auditor licensed under the Public Accounting Act 2004, who is responsible for annually auditing the accounts and transactions of the City and its local boards and expressing an opinion on the financial statements of these bodies based on the audit. Also in accordance with the Act, the auditor shall not be appointed for a term exceeding five years and shall not be a City employee or an employee of a local board of the City. The auditor reports to City Council.

Auditor General oversees external audit contract

PricewaterhouseCoopers, an external public accounting firm, is responsible for the annual statutory audit of the City’s financial statements under a five-year term contract starting January 1, 2010. The Auditor General is responsible for issuing the request for proposal to secure the external audit services required by the City and maintains an oversight role for these statutory audits.
Other financial statement audits

Separate external auditors have been appointed for the City Community Centres, City Arenas and a number of other City entities (Heritage Toronto, Yonge-Dundas Square, the Toronto Atmospheric Funds and the Clean Air Partnership). In May 2008, City Council approved a five year contract with Grant Thornton LLP to perform the financial statement audits for these entities.

Internal Audit Functions at the Toronto Transit Commission and the Toronto Police Service

Separate internal audit functions exist at both the Toronto Transit Commission and the Toronto Police Service. The internal audit function at the Toronto Transit Commission and the Toronto Police Service each report directly to management in a similar manner to the City’s Internal Audit Division.

THE AUDITOR GENERAL’S OFFICE

As outlined under Section 178 of the Act, “The Auditor General is responsible for assisting city council in holding itself and its administrators accountable for the quality of stewardship over public funds and for the achievement of value for money in city operations.”

The audit process is an independent, objective assurance activity designed to add value and improve an organization’s operations. The audit process assists an organization in accomplishing this objective by bringing a systematic, disciplined approach in evaluating and improving the effectiveness of risk management, control and governance processes.

Responsibilities of the Auditor General

Auditor General’s independence, authority and reporting

In carrying out its audit activities, the Auditor General’s Office is independent of management, and has the authority to conduct financial, operational, compliance, information systems, forensic and other special reviews of City divisions, and those local boards provided for under the Act and such City-controlled corporations and grant recipients as City Council may specify. The Auditor General reports to Council through the Audit Committee.
Specific responsibilities of the Auditor General include:

1. Conduct audit projects identified by the Auditor General through the Auditor General’s risk assessment process. Such projects are included in the Auditor General’s annual work plan.

2. Conduct forensic investigations including those involving suspected fraudulent activities.

3. Conduct special assignments identified by the Auditor General, or approved by a two-thirds majority resolution of Council.

4. Manage the Fraud and Waste Hotline Program as well as the referral of certain concerns and issues to divisional management.

5. Oversee the work and the contract of the external auditors performing annual financial statement audits.

6. The follow up of recommendations contained in previous audit reports.

Coordination and consultation with other audit functions

Audit work at the City requires coordination with the City Manager’s Internal Audit Division, as well as audit groups at the Toronto Transit Commission and the Toronto Police Service. The Auditor General meets with each of these groups on a regular basis in order to ensure that he is aware of any audit concerns and to ensure that there is no duplication of audit work.

Coordination and consultation with external auditors, other Accountability Officers and City Manager

The Auditor General also meets on a regular basis with both the external auditor and the City’s other Accountability Officers to discuss any issues of mutual concern.

Finally, the Auditor General meets with the City Manager on a regular basis to discuss a wide range of issues, including the annual work plan and upcoming audit reports.
In April 2009, City Council adopted a policy framework for Toronto's four Accountability Officers including the Auditor General. The policy provisions included in the framework form the basis of a separate Toronto Municipal Code chapter for the Accountability Officers. This new chapter, Chapter 3, "Accountability Officers" was enacted by City Council in October 2009. This chapter reinforces the Accountability Officers arm's length relationship to the City administration and their independent status within the City's governance system.

A budget protocol for the Accountability Officers was developed to establish a process to guide their budget submissions through City Council's annual operating budget process and to provide clarity for the City administration's role with respect to the Accountability Officers' budget process. This protocol requires that a Budget Request Overview be appended to the Accountability Officer's Budget Transmittal Report.

The Auditor General’s Office conducts its audit work in accordance with generally accepted Government Auditing Standards. Audits are conducted in accordance with these standards, which relate to independence, objectivity, professional proficiency, scope and performance of work.

Staff are also bound by the standards and ethics of their respective professional organizations, which include the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario, the Certified General Accountants Association, the Society of Management Accountants, the Information Systems Audit and Control Association, the Institute of Certified Fraud Examiners, and the Institute of Internal Auditors. All professional members of the Auditor General’s Office have at least one professional designation. Details of staff qualifications are provided on the following web site:
http://www.toronto.ca/audit/about_audit.htm#staffing.
Independent Quality Assurance Review of the Auditor General’s Office

Government Auditing Standards require an independent review

A requirement of Government Auditing Standards is that audit organizations undergo an external independent quality assurance review at least once every three years. The objective of a quality assurance review is to determine whether an audit organization’s internal quality control system is in place and operating effectively. A quality assurance review provides assurance that established policies and procedures and applicable auditing standards are being followed.

Auditor General’s second quality assurance review

The Auditor General’s Office underwent its second quality assurance review during 2009. No other municipal audit office in Canada has undergone such a process. Two reports were issued by representatives from the Association of Local Government Auditors (ALGA), an independent professional body which conducts a significant number of quality assurance reviews throughout the US. The reports issued by ALGA are attached to this report as Exhibit 2.

Annual Compliance Audit

Auditor General in compliance with all appropriate City policies

The Auditor General’s Office undergoes an annual compliance audit by a separate and independent external auditor, appointed by and reporting to City Council. The annual compliance audit provides Council assurance that the Auditor General’s Office is carrying out its operations within delegated authorities and in compliance with applicable City bylaws and policies. The annual compliance report for the year ended December 31, 2009 is available at:

Staff Training

Auditor General’s commitment to staff training

The Auditor General’s Office is committed to ensuring that staff maintain professional proficiency through continuing professional education (CPE) in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. These standards require that each auditor complete 80 hours of CPE every two years with at least 24 hours directly related to government auditing, the government environment, or the specific or unique environment in which the audited entity operates.
The Auditor General’s Office establishes a training program each year to assist staff in meeting these requirements. An internal Training Committee oversees the training program of the Office. Staff must prepare an annual training plan outlining the courses or activities to be undertaken to meet the CPE hourly requirements described above, to retain professional certification, or to meet staff’s professional needs. These plans are approved by senior management. The vast majority of training is conducted internally. The Office maintains a record of each staff member’s training in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

Budget request

The amount of $4,193,913 is the Auditor General’s budget request for 2011. This amount includes $306,048 relating to external audit fees. The Auditor General has no control over the external audit fees as they are based on a separate contractual agreement with the City’s external auditors. The budget represents the Auditor General’s analysis of audit resource requirements including the operation of the Fraud and Waste Hotline Program.
2.1% decrease From 2010 to 2011 budget

The decrease in the Auditor General’s budget from 2010 to 2011 is 2.1 per cent.

The budget request of the Auditor General for 2011 has decreased by $89,200 from the 2010 level.

External audit fee adjustment

The two year contract extension for external audit services ended with the audit of the December 31, 2009 financial statements. PricewaterhouseCoopers, an external public accounting firm, is responsible for the annual statutory audit of the City’s financial statements under a new five-year term contract starting January 1, 2010. Audit fees were adjusted, during the 2010 budget process, based on the new contract fee schedule.

96% of budget is salaries and benefits

The majority of the Auditor General’s 2011 budget request consists of salaries and benefits. If the amount of $306,048 for external audit fees is excluded from the budget of the Auditor General’s Office, the percentage of salaries and benefits to the total budget is just under 96 per cent.

Consequence of Decrease in Budget

5% budget decrease would result in termination of staff

The Auditor General’s Office consists of 26 professional staff and three administrative staff. As of September 2, 2010 one professional position is vacant. The remainder of positions are filled. An additional professional position will be vacant as of October 2011.

To achieve a five per cent reduction, on the 2009 approved net operating budget, an amount of $219,100 would have to be decreased reducing the 2011 budget target to $4,146,500. In order to meet this target, we would have to delete the current vacancy and reduce staff by one position. Consequently, this reduction in the budget would result in the termination of existing staff.

As an alternative, we propose a one-time gapping of $171,700 in 2011 for the current and upcoming vacancies.
The Benchmarking of Audit Costs – Comparisons With Other Municipalities

The Auditor General’s Office has benchmarked its costs with those of major municipalities across Canada, as well as those of a number of municipalities in the United States.

Toronto Audit Costs

Difficult to make exact comparisons

It is difficult to make specific comparisons with other municipalities due to a number of factors such as:

- The budgets of other municipalities include an Auditor General function only. There may be other internal audit entities in these organizations which have not been accounted for. We are aware that Quebec City for example, has a separate internal audit function.

- The City of Toronto operates a Fraud and Waste Hotline, whereas a number of other municipalities do not (e.g., Quebec City and Vancouver).

Audit costs significantly below other municipalities

In spite of the difficulties in comparing audit budgets, the budget of the Auditor General’s Office is comparable with other major cities throughout Canada and the US. When compared with other municipalities, the budget of the Auditor General’s Office is at the low end of the scale.

Mayor’s Fiscal Review Panel recommendations

The Mayor’s Fiscal Review Panel report was issued on February 21, 2008. Recommendations in this report speak to the strengthening of the Auditor General’s Office. The report recommends that “the City should increase the budget for the Auditor General’s Office to enable it to complete more efficiency audits.”
We recognize the financial restraints under which the City operates and over the past number of years our budget requests have reflected this reality. Nevertheless, it is important to recognize that the audit work conducted by this Office is not at a level commensurate with the size and complexity of the City. In order to address the audit projects which have been deferred as well as to accommodate the increased volume of complaints received by the Fraud and Waste Hotline, it is estimated that additional resources in the range of $300,000 would be required.

Our annual work plan is based on the resources available. There are a significant number of audits which continue to be deferred because of limited resources. In addition, the Auditor General is now at the stage where audits previously conducted over the years should be the focus of a second review. Resources are not available to allow for this.

Predetermined Audit Costs in Certain Jurisdictions

Quebec legislation mandates allocation of audit fees as a percentage of the total City budget

Of significance in the comparison of audit costs between municipalities is current legislation in Quebec. The Quebec Cities and Towns Act in Section 107.5 requires that, “The budget of the municipality shall include an appropriation to provide for payment of a sum to the chief auditor to cover the expenses relating to the exercise of the chief auditor’s duties.” The amount legislated for audit services in municipalities with a budget in excess of $1 billion is 0.11 per cent of the total City budget. If the equivalent percentage of 0.11 per cent was applied to the City of Toronto, the City’s total audit budget would be in the range of $10 million.

Quebec model would increase City audit budget by over $3.4 million

Using the Quebec model as a guide, it would not be unreasonable to suggest that the audit budget at the City should increase by over $3.6 million. We are not suggesting that such an increase be considered without significant additional deliberation or analysis, nor are we suggesting that these additional resources be exclusively allocated to the Auditor General’s Office. For example, any increase to the audit budget at the City should also consider the needs of the internal audit function operating out of the City Manager’s Office. In our view and on a preliminary basis, we would suggest that the internal audit functions at the TTC and the Toronto Police Service are adequately resourced.

The above analysis does, however, demonstrate that audit resources at the City are not excessive and likely should be increased to a level commensurate with the size of the City.
Additional Workload Pressures

Annual follow-up of audit recommendations

An extremely important component of any audit process is the requirement that there be a follow-up of audit recommendations made. There is little benefit to an audit unless recommendations resulting from the audit are implemented. In order to address this issue, we have established an annual process to follow-up on all previously issued audit reports. The resources devoted to this process have been significant. However, such a process enables us to ensure that all previously approved recommendations have been implemented.

Increase in Fraud and Waste Hotline activity

In addition, the activity relating to the Fraud and Waste Hotline has increased significantly since its inception. It was recognized and acknowledged that during its initial phase the Hotline could be accommodated with existing resources until the extent of activity was determined.

The following illustrates the increase in complaint volume in the Fraud and Waste Hotline program since its inception.

City Wide Risk Assessment conducted in 2009

The Auditor General’s Office conducted a City wide risk assessment in 2009. The results were communicated to the City Manager on May 21, 2010. The results of this review will figure prominently in the development of the Auditor General’s Office annual work plans over the next five years.

Senior audit staff identified 157 audit units in the City’s organizational structure and gathered relevant information. The results were shared with divisional staff for confirmation and additional input. The audit units were ranked from the highest to the lowest level of risk for the entire City. Three categories for level of risk were created with the results distributed as follows:

Benefits of an Effective Audit Process

An effective audit process can result in a significant payback to the City in terms of:

- increased revenues
- reduced costs
- improved internal controls
- operational efficiencies
- enhanced protection of City assets.

The costs savings generated by the Auditor General’s Office since amalgamation, while difficult to quantify precisely, have been significant and far outweigh the costs to operate the office. Many of the savings generated are not one-time savings. In many cases they represent on-going annual savings.

Cost savings over last five years are in the range of $87 million

In a report to the Audit Committee dated January 21, 2010 entitled “Annual Report - Auditor General’s Office - Benefits to the City of Toronto”, it was reported to Audit Committee that the actual potential net savings for the period 2005 to 2009 were in the range of $87 million. At the request of the Audit Committee, this report will be updated and tabled with the Committee during the first quarter of 2011.
The Impact of the City of Toronto Act

The City of Toronto Act has had an impact on the Auditor General’s ability to audit certain of the City’s local boards. Prior to the Act, the Auditor General had access to all records at each of the City’s local boards and was able to conduct audit work based on his analysis of risk.

City of Toronto Act limits Auditor General’s authority to audit “restricted” local boards

The Act states, in Section 178 (3) under Powers and Duties of the Auditor General’s Office, that “the Auditor General may exercise the powers and shall perform the duties as may be assigned to him or her by city council in respect of the City, its local boards (restricted definition) and such city controlled corporations and grant recipients as city council may specify.”

Under the Act, “local boards (restricted definition)” is defined as a local board other than the Toronto Police Services Board, the Toronto Public Library and the Board of Health. In essence, the Auditor General of the City of Toronto, under the new legislation, has no authority to access records or conduct audit work at those “restricted” local boards.

Auditor General working with “restricted” local boards

The Auditor General met with both the City Manager and the City Solicitor to further address this matter. The City Solicitor has advised that Council may extend the mandate of the Auditor General to include audits of the “restricted” local boards based upon specific requests of these boards. City Council subsequently approved that the Auditor General, at his discretion, may undertake financial (excluding attest) compliance and performance audits of the “restricted” local boards upon request by the boards. This arrangement has worked satisfactorily, particularly, in the case of the Toronto Police Services Board. Since the Act, a significant amount of work has been conducted at the Toronto Police Service.

It is anticipated that the Province of Ontario will be requested to amend the Act to include the “restricted” boards in those entities subject to audit by the Auditor General.
The Statutory Accountability Officers - Working Together With the Integrity Commissioner, the Lobbyist Registrar and the Ombudsman

Over the past number of years, there has been on-going communication between the Auditor General and the Integrity Commissioner. Regular meetings were held to discuss issues or concerns and when appropriate, specific complaints were referred to the responsible official. In his final report to the City Council, the former Integrity Commissioner stated that “Within the City, I continued to have an excellent relationship with Jeffrey Griffiths, the Auditor General”. The Auditor General has on-going dialogue with the current Integrity Commissioner.

On-going meetings have also been held with the Lobbyist Registrar and the Ombudsman to discuss areas of interest and concern.

A Policy Framework for Toronto’s Accountability Officers

On March 20, 2009, City Council approved a report entitled “A Policy Framework for Toronto Accountability Officers”. The report contains a number of Guiding Principles as follows:

- The offices will be established by bylaw in Toronto’s Municipal Code.
- The officers are appointed by and have direct accountability to City Council.
- The appointment, renewal, and removal processes will be defined and transparent.
- The officers will have a fixed term of office.
- The officers will have budgetary, operational, and staffing independence.

One of the recommendations contained in the report directs that “City Council authorize the City Manager and Deputy City Manager and Chief Financial Officer, in consultation with the accountability officers, to review and research best practices respecting setting aside a percentage of the City’s budget for Toronto’s accountability functions and report back to Executive Committee”.

It is anticipated that this review will be conducted in 2011.
New Municipal Code Chapter for Toronto’s Accountability Officers

The provisions included in the Policy Framework for Toronto Accountability Officers form the basis of a separate Toronto Municipal Code chapter for the Accountability Officers. This new chapter, Chapter 3, "Accountability Officers" was enacted, by City Council in October 2009. This chapter reinforces their arm's length relationship to the City administration and their independent status within the City’s governance system.

The Auditor General’s Annual Audit Work Plan

The 2011 Audit Work Plan of the Auditor General will be presented to Audit Committee concurrent with this report.

Summary

The budget to operate the Auditor General’s Office for 2011 is projected to be $4,193,900. Included in this amount are audit fees paid to an external accounting firm for the annual statutory audit of the financial statements of the City.

As indicated previously, 96 per cent of the Auditor General’s budget request consists of salaries and benefits. Reducing the Auditor General’s 2009 approved budget by five per cent would require decreasing staff by one person and elimination of the vacant position.

Auditor General’s Office

Dear Mr. Griffiths,

We have completed a peer review of the City of Toronto Auditor General’s Office for the period January 2006 through December 2008. In conducting our review, we followed the standards and guidelines contained in the Peer Review Guide published by the Association of Local Government Auditors (ALGA).

We reviewed the internal quality control system of your audit organization and conducted tests in order to determine if your internal quality control system operated to provide reasonable assurance of compliance with Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Due to variances in individual performance and judgment, compliance does not imply adherence to standards in every case, but does imply adherence in most situations.

Based on the results of our review, it is our opinion that the City of Toronto Auditor General Office’s internal quality control system was suitably designed and operating effectively to provide reasonable assurance of compliance with Government Auditing Standards for audits and attestation engagements during the period January 2006 through December 2008.

We have prepared a separate management letter offering one suggestion to further strengthen your internal quality control system.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Griffiths,

We have completed a peer review of the City of Toronto Auditor General’s Office for the period January 2006 through December 2008 and issued our report thereon dated February 27, 2009. We are issuing this companion letter to offer certain observations and one suggestion stemming from our peer review.

We would like to mention some of the areas in which we believe your office excels:

- The entire audit team has great synergy.
- Your office’s policies and procedures are well written and substantially exceed the requirements under Government Auditing Standards. They also promote consistency among the work papers across audits.
- The staff is highly qualified and diverse with a broad range of subject area expertise.
- Your approach to the electronic automation of audit recommendation follow-up is an innovative and excellent idea, and makes the process much more efficient. Perhaps it is something you can share at an annual ALGA conference.
- The internal committees that focus on quality assurance and critical issues are an excellent idea.
- Your system for electronically distributing reports minimizes paper consumption and is environmentally friendly.
- The Administrative Support Staff is gracious and efficient.
We offer the following observation and suggestion to enhance your organization’s demonstrated adherence to Government Auditing Standards:

- In one of the six engagements we examined neither the survey checklist nor the audit program addressed the risk of fraud. In our determination the risk of fraud was not likely for this particular engagement. Government Auditing Standards direct that when planning the audit, auditors should assess risks of fraud occurring that is significant within the context of the audit objectives. Consequently, the Fraud and Abuse section should be included in the work papers, and the auditor should indicate N/A if the standard is not applicable.

We extend our thanks to you, your staff and the city officials we met for the hospitality and cooperation extended to us during our review.

Sincerely,

Alan R. Gutowski

Dear Mr. Gutowski,

Thank you for participating in the External Quality Control Review of the City of Toronto Auditor General’s Office. Your review is a valuable part of our continuing efforts to improve the quality of audits, and we are pleased you found that audits performed by the Toronto Auditor General’s Office comply with Government Auditing Standards.

The Auditor General’s Office is committed to continuously improving the quality of our audit work. We appreciate your thoughtful comments regarding the areas where you found our Office excels, including the quality of our policies, procedures, working papers, staff qualifications and diversity. We also appreciate your recognition of our audit recommendation follow-up system.

We also appreciate your observation related to the engagement where audit planning documentation should have included our consideration of fraud risk. As indicated in your management letter comment, you agreed with our determination that the risk of fraud was not likely for this particular engagement which was an audit of the City’s performance in Achieving Access, Equity and Human Rights Goals. For the record, our assessment of fraud was not included in the documentation because of a timing issue related to the internal release of revised planning templates during our transition from the 2003 Government Auditing Standards to the 2007 Government Auditing Standards (for audits effective January 1, 2008). The 2008 planning templates were not available to audit staff at the time this engagement was initiated. As a result, the 2004 version was used which did not include the new requirement to document auditor consideration of fraud risk. The revised version was released shortly after the completion of the planning phase of this engagement and is currently in place.

Our entire office found the peer review to be a valuable and constructive process. We appreciate the professionalism with which you carried out your responsibilities as peer reviewers, as well as the insights gained from your own organizations.
I would like to extend my personal thanks to you, Renata Khoshroo and Antonio Bianchi for taking the time to review our operations, and for your participation in the ALGA peer review program.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Griffiths, CA, CFE
