Re: Ward Boundaries

The City of Toronto's continuous growth provides an opportunity to revisit the feasibility of reviewing the Ward boundaries, to better represent residents. As our communities become increasingly denser, needs are beginning to merge and reflect a certain commonality.

As it is customary for governments to reevaluate representation, it would benefit the City of Toronto to review the possibility of enhancing boundaries to better reflect community goals and needs for consistency in representation.

Recommendation:

1. The City Manager report to the Executive Committee on the process of a City of Toronto Ward boundary review to better reflect effective representation within the City; including possible governance implications.

Sincerely,

Councillor Paul Ainslie
Scarborough East Ward 43
