C.J. Graphics Inc. Group of Companies has been, and will continue to be, an avid supporter of the Toronto ChemTRAC initiative.

As a leader in the printing and publishing industry, we are obligated to lead our customers and competitors in the attainment of a cleaner and greener society.

To this end, we are committed to the Toronto Public Health program that collects data each year from local businesses on 25 priority substances that are commonly used or released, and exist in our environment at levels of concern for our health. Evidence links these substances to short-term health effects like respiratory problems and longer term impacts such as cancer.

The program requires C.J. Graphics to annually track and report on the use and release of priority substances following the Environmental Reporting and Disclosure.

We have drastically reduced our dependence on toxic chemicals and have replaced them with ecologically sound alternatives. We are consistently below the parameters required for any of the monitored substances.

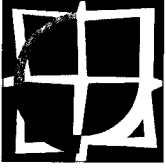

C.J. Graphics enjoys a company-wide commitment to environmental responsibility using the well-known 3-Rs, Reduce, Reuse and Recycle. But added to this concept is Re-think and Re-invest.

We are renowned for investing in innovative, cutting-edge technologies that encompass both sound business decisions and positively affect our environment.

With a focus on quality, integrity, innovation and professional service, C.J. Graphics continually investigates environmentally friendly technologies.

Clean air, clean water, forest conservation and safe working conditions are universal environmental goals. With a focus on these qualities, C.J. Graphics re-thinks its systems and procedures bearing in mind the impact the printed piece will ultimately have on our environment.
