Re: Executive Committee Agenda EX33-22, July 3, 2012

Dear Executive Committee Members,

Enbridge Gas Distribution is pleased to support the proposed plan from the City of Toronto to implement the Local Improvement Charges (LIC) pilot. As you may be aware, Enbridge has been offering energy efficiency programs to its customers in Ontario since 1995 under the Energy Board Order 169. Of specific relevance, we launched our Community Energy Conservation program (CEC) in mid-2012 that aims to achieve energy savings through holistic approach focused on community based marketing. In doing so, EGD provides pertinent information and financial incentives to support and encourage homeowners to undertake energy efficient upgrades. We believe that there are strong synergies in jointly delivering LIC and CEC programs in the Greater Toronto Area. Our objective is to integrate the LIC pilot with our CEC program so that there is minimal or no cost impact to the ratepayers, as well as improved customer uptake by taking full advantage of offering from the two programs while providing an energy efficient program that is simple to follow and does not confuse the customer.

Enbridge Gas Distribution is excited for the benefits that the LIC pilot can assist in bringing to the energy efficiency programs that are currently running as well as those to launch in the future. These combined efforts will certainly aid us in our pursuit to drive efficiencies and lower costs for our customers while also allowing customers to make choices best suited to their homes and their lifestyles.

Enbridge Gas Distribution is pleased to offer support for this worthwhile program.

Sincerely,
