

1. The view of the north and west façades of Oaklands from Avenue Road, 131 Farnham Avenue (Heritage Preservation Services, 2015)

2. Stone gates with the gatekeeper's house (Heritage Preservation Services, 2015)

3. The stone gates with the gate keeper's house at the left and the view of the south façade of Oaklands, and the Lake Iroquois ridge in the distance from Oaklands Avenue
(Heritage Preservation Services, 2015)

4. 1932 photograph 'De La Salle Physical Training Class, "Oaklands"' and the Lake Iroquois ridge after De La Salle purchased the property in 1931 (Archives of Canada)

5. Oaklands, south façade and the Lake Iroquois ridge with the playing fields below as viewed from Avenue Road (Heritage Preservation Services, 2015)

6. West Façade, De La Salle "Oaklands", 1949
(Heritage Preservation Services, 2015)

7. View of Upper Terrace Grounds from Avenue Road looking east across open grounds and landscaping towards De La Salle College "Oaklands" building. (Heritage Preservation Services, 2015)

8. View of Upper Terrace Grounds from Avenue Road looking south-east across open grounds and landscaping towards Oaklands. (Heritage Preservation Services, 2015)

9. Map showing location of Views as described in heritage attributes for 131 Farnham Ave.

- Arrow 1: The views from Avenue Road of the ridge, the playing field and the south elevations of Oaklands (see image 5)
- Arrow 2: The view from Oaklands Avenue, through the gates and across the open field of the ridge and the south elevations of Oaklands (see image 3)
- Arrow 3: The view from the ridge looking south towards the downtown and the lake (see Yonge-St.Clair Secondary Plan Map 6-1)
- Arrow 4: The views from Avenue Road of the west elevation of the 1949 school building and the north and west elevations of Oakland house (see images 1, 7 & 8)