

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE:
600-602 MARKHAM STREET

ATTACHMENT NO. 4Q

The properties at 600 and 602 Markham Street are worthy of inclusion on the City of Toronto's Heritage Register for their cultural heritage value.

Description

The properties at 600-602 Markham Street contain a pair of 2½-storey semi-detached house form buildings that are located on the west side of the street, north of Lennox Street. Archival records indicate that buildings were unfinished in 1904, and occupied by retired minister William Forrest and widow Pauline Taylor, respectively the next year. The properties were acquired by local entrepreneur Edwin "Honest Ed" Mirvish in the mid 1960s.

Statement of Cultural Heritage Value

The properties at 600-602 Markham Street have cultural heritage value for their design as early 20th century, house form buildings that are representative of their type with features of early 20th century Edwardian Classicism, the most popular style of this era. The house form buildings retain their architectural integrity, along with the complementary pairs at 587-589 and 599-601 Markham on the opposite side of the street.

The properties at 600-602 Markham Street are historically linked to Mirvish Village, the famed artists' enclave created by Ed Mirvish and his family on Markham Street between Bloor Street West and Lennox Street. Originally acquired for additional parking for the nearby "Honest Ed's" retail complex, the houses were saved and converted as an artists' enclave with studios as well as restaurants and unique shop. Mirvish Village became a cultural and tourist destination in Toronto, including the properties at 600-602 Markham Street.

Contextually, house form buildings at 600-602 Markham Street assist in defining, maintaining and supporting the character of Mirvish Village, which consists of the collection of preserved detached, semi-detached and multi-unit house form buildings dating to the late 19th and early 20th centuries that contribute to this special area within the Palmerston neighbourhood.

The properties at 600-602 Markham Street are also visually, historically, physically and functionally connected to their setting on the east side of Markham Street in Mirvish Village where they complement the neighbouring house form buildings in scale, setback and vintage detailing.

Heritage Attributes

The heritage attributes of the house form buildings on the properties at 600-602 Markham Street are:

- The setback, placement and orientation of the buildings on the west side of Markham Street, north of Lennox Street

- The scale, form and massing of the 2½-storey rectangular plans
- The materials, with the brick cladding (now painted) and the brick, stone and wood detailing
- The hipped gable roofs, with the gabled dormer on the west slope of each building and the central brick chimney
- The principal (east) elevations, which are designed as mirror images with the main entries elevated and placed in the outer bays in the first (ground) floors (the remainder of the openings in this storey have been altered
- On the east elevation of each building, the oriel window that is centered in the second storey