Dear Rosalind;

We are writing to you to formally request designation of municipal significance for our event Canadian Music Week scheduled to take place May 4 – 14, 2016 for liquor licensing purposes.

This coming May marks Canadian Music Week (CMW) 34th year as the largest international music and entertainment event of it's kind in Canada designed to promote Canadian talent to International markets. Attracting more than 2,000 registered delegates from around the world, the conference segment of the event will take place at the host hotel, The Sheraton Centre Toronto and the showcase events featuring more than 900 artists will be held in 50 various downtown venues.

Each year CMW brings in more than 400 key international delegates who represent publishing, talent booking, promoters, record labels, distributors and music supervisors from such territories as Australia, China, Finland, France, Germany, India, Japan, New Zealand, The Netherlands, UK and USA for the express purpose of promoting Canadian talent to the International decision makers.

Enclosed are complete details on Canadian Music Week along with sample marketing materials from the 2015 event but should you require any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me at 905.858.4747 or by email at Cameron@cmw.net

Our festival team has already begun working on special performances and we anticipate our team will have the complete schedule completed by March 2015.

Thank you in advance for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Cameron Wright
VP of Operations and Live Programming

OVERVIEW

Canadian Music Week (CMW) has established itself worldwide as one of the premiere entertainment events in North America that encompasses an Executive Conference, a Musicians/Songwriters Conference, Music Festival, Film Festival, Comedy Festival, 5 Award Shows, and Trade Show.

CMW's primary focus continues to be a Canadian based world-class entertainment event and a launching pad for Canada's new recording artists and upholds its strategy to assist the Canadian Music Industry educate and develop the performer and music business professionals of the future, and to help promote Canadian artists and recordings around the world.

CMW brings together the worlds of music, new technology, radio, television, and film, combining music industry seminars, trade shows, awards ceremonies and a large-scale music festival dedicated to showcasing new Canadian talent. CMW presents over 70 seminars, workshops, discussion forums and keynotes with the world's leading authorities and business leaders seeking to exchange information and gain insight into consumer trends and business challenges facing the entire Canadian music industry.

Over 300 trade journalists and reporters from around the world generate significant media coverage and unprecedented media contra value in support of Canadian Music Week.

For 2016, CMW will continue to explore the many challenges facing the industry in the fast and furious pace of emerging technologies and the techno-savvy consumer.

THE CONFERENCES

As Canada's largest and most influential music conference, CMW will bring together the world's top industry professionals to participate in a three-day program of activities. Designed to stimulate the exchange of market intelligence, increase dialogue and provide networking opportunities, the CMW Executive Conference includes over 70 panels featuring over 400 industry experts.

The trade exhibition throughout the conference demonstrates Canadian products and services to buyers and provides opportunities for Canadian companies to develop new contacts for domestic distribution and future export opportunities.

THE FESTIVAL

CMW presents one of Canada's largest new music festivals – featuring over 900 of the best unsigned and independent artists in 48 of Toronto's hottest nightclubs and music halls. CMW has been instrumental in providing a forum for discovery of many of Canada's top recording artists. Past years' Festival headliners, featured artists and discoveries include:
