Areas of significant audit risk

Revenue recognition

Canadian auditing standards assume a ‘rebuttable presumption’ that there is a significant risk of fraud in revenue recognition.

Details of our approach, as well as the results of our testing with respect to revenue recognition, is outlined below:

- The risk of fraud with respect to revenue recognition was assessed for each major City of Toronto revenue stream. We assessed management incentives to commit fraud as well as opportunities to commit material fraud given the nature of revenue transactions.
- We utilized Computer Assisted Auditing Techniques (CAATs) to perform testing over property tax revenue, municipal land transfer tax revenue, water and waste water revenue.
- Our testing of water revenues included selecting samples of revenue items, and obtaining associated bills and payments and recalculated the water and sewage charge and the solid waste charge by recalculating based on consumption and rates per the 2015 bylaws.
- We independently confirmed property tax assessment rolls with MPAC and municipal land transfer tax revenue with Teranet. For property taxes, we recomputed the tax levy based on the MPAC assessment and City property tax By-laws. We also tested the classification of commercial properties and agreed supplementary levies to rolls.
- On a sample basis, we examined supporting documentation for other revenues including license, permits, fees, service charges and other revenue.

|                           | • For obligatory reserve funds we tested management review controls over the obligatory reserve fund activity and performed tests of details to assess the appropriateness of revenue recognition within the various revenue streams.
• For transfers from other governments, we obtained supporting documentation to support the approval and accuracy of the revenue amount. We also examined agreements for eligibility criteria and stipulations to test that revenue has been recognized in accordance with the City’s accounting policy. |
|                           | There are no matters to report with respect to revenue recognition as a result of our testing. |
| Consolidation process     | As we have reported in prior years, the City’s consolidation process is manual in nature and uses complex spreadsheets, which can be susceptible to error. |
|                           | As a result of our testing of the City’s consolidation, we have identified several financial statement reclassification items and other differences. These have been outlined in our summary of unadjusted and adjusted items included in Appendix B. |
| Risk of material misstatement due to management override | Canadian auditing standards require that management override of controls be considered an area of significant audit risk. |
|                           | PwC work performed:
• We assessed the control environment and segregation of duties and accessed parameters established in SAP that mitigate this risk.
• We reviewed whistle-blower reports for issues that may have a material impact to the financial statements.
• We tested certain significant and non-standard manual journal entries made during the year. We also performed unpredictable audit procedures as part of our sample selections during the execution of our audit. |
|                           | Based on our audit work performed, we have found no circumstances that indicate inappropriate management override of controls. |
| Significant accounting estimates and areas of management judgment | In preparing the financial statements, the significant accounting estimate that required management judgment included assumptions used in calculating the value of pensions and other employee future benefit liabilities. PwC work performed:
• We examined the third party actuarial valuations at year-end with the assistance of our PwC actuarial specialists to assess the appropriateness of the assumptions and methodology used to record the pension and employee future benefit liabilities. |
|                           | Based on our audit work performed, we have concluded that these significant accounting estimates and areas of management judgment included in the financial statements are supportable within an acceptable range. |

Appendix A: Draft auditor’s report
Independent Auditor’s Report

To the Members of Council, Inhabitants, and Ratepayers of the City of Toronto

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of the City of Toronto, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at December 31, 2015 and the consolidated statement of operations and accumulated surplus, consolidated statement of change in net debt, and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes, which comprise a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management’s responsibility for the consolidated financial statements
Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor’s responsibility
Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity’s preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity’s internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained in our audit is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion
In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the City of Toronto as at December 31, 2015 and the results of its operations, changes in its net debt and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

Appendix C: Internal control recommendations

SAP application – procurement process - segregation of duties

Observation:
Based on our review of the segregation of duties relating to procurement processing it was noted that a number of user accounts for operations support have access to transactions that provide incompatible abilities in the Financial Services division. For example, access to maintain vendor master data and process invoices or access to create, change or release purchase orders and process the invoice for the same order.

Impact:
If proper segregation of duties does not exist, there is a risk that unauthorized processing could occur.

Recommendation:
Management should review conflicting abilities and review the transactions posted by these user accounts to ensure validity of the transactions.

Management response:
Management agrees to identify user accounts to limit access and review transactions on a quarterly basis or sooner if risk requires it.
Financial statement close process (as previously reported)

Observation:
The financial statement close process (FSCP) includes the initiation, authorization and recording of journal entries and preparing the financial statements. The FSCP also includes the preparation of financial statement disclosures where transactions, events, or conditions required to be disclosed are accumulated, recorded, processed, summarized and appropriately reported in the consolidated financial statements.

The City’s FSCP is a complex annual process given the number of Agencies and Corporations (A&Cs) that are consolidated within the financial statements. In addition, some of the A&Cs follow different accounting frameworks from the City, and their financial results need to be adjusted to conform to the City’s accounting standards. Further, since the A&Cs’ accounting systems are different from the City’s, the consolidation is a manual process that is performed in Excel spreadsheets and, as a result, is a complex and time consuming process to complete.

During the performance of our audits in 2014 and 2015, we noted that management has made improvements to the method of manually tracking consolidation entries. We noted fewer audit adjustments in this area in the past two years relative to previous years; however, we continue to note audit adjustments relating to consolidation entries.

Impact:
As the consolidation process is complex and manually driven, there is an increased risk of error with respect to consolidating the City’s A&Cs’ and recording consolidation adjustments.

Recommendation:
Management should conduct a thorough review of all adjusting entries in the consolidation and should reconcile the A&Cs’ accounting standards to the City’s accounting standards under Public Sector Accounting Standards (PSAS) and ensure consistency of presentation between the City’s financial statements and the respective A&Cs’.

In addition to the above recommendation, we would also suggest that the City consider implementing financial reporting software for consolidating the City and its A&Cs.

Management Response:
For 2016 reporting, further improvements will be implemented to agency and corporation reporting with a request for electronic provision of information in the City’s format, and a more diligent review process to ensure completeness, accuracy and timeliness of data. We will continue to enhance communication between City and agency staff. Implementation of reporting software will be reviewed for future years, based on a cost-benefit review and availability of budgets.

b. serving as an officer or director of a client;

Appendix E: Draft management representation letter
Dear Ms. Russell:

We are providing this letter in connection with your audit of the consolidated financial statements of the City of Toronto (“the City”) as of December 31, 2015 and for the year then ended for the purpose of expressing an opinion as to whether such consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position, the results of operations, the changes in accumulated surplus and net debt and the cash flows of the City in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

Management’s responsibilities
We have fulfilled our responsibilities, as set out in the terms of the audit engagement dated November 30, 2015. In particular, we confirm to you that:

- we are responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards;

In this regard, we are responsible for establishing policies and procedures that ensure financial statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards;
- we have provided you with all relevant information and access, as agreed in the terms of the audit engagement; and
- all transactions have been recorded in the accounting records and are reflected in the consolidated financial statements.

We confirm the following representations:

Preparation of consolidated financial statements
The consolidated financial statements include all disclosures necessary for fair presentation in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards and disclosures otherwise required to be included therein by the laws and regulations to which the City is subject.

We have appropriately reconciled our books and records (e.g. general ledger accounts) underlying the consolidated financial statements to their related supporting information (e.g. sub ledger or third party data). All related reconciling items considered to be material were identified and included on the reconciliations and were appropriately adjusted in the consolidated financial statements.

There were no material unreconciled differences or material general ledger suspense account items that should have been adjusted or reclassified to another account balance. There were no material general ledger suspense account items written off to a balance sheet account, which should have been written off to a profit and loss account and vice versa. All consolidating entries have been properly recorded. All inter-governmental unit accounts have been eliminated or appropriately measured and considered for disclosure in the consolidated financial statements.
Accounting policies
We confirm that we have reviewed the City’s accounting policies and, having regard to the possible alternative policies, our selection and application of accounting policies and estimation techniques used for the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements is appropriate in the City’s particular circumstances to present fairly in all material respects its financial position, results of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

Internal controls over financial reporting
We have designed disclosure controls and procedures to ensure material information relating to the City, including its consolidated subsidiaries, is made known to us by others within those entities.

We have designed internal control over financial reporting to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of the consolidated financial statements for external purposes in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

We have disclosed to you all deficiencies in the design or operation of disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting that we are aware.

All contractual arrangements entered into by the City with third parties have been properly reflected in the accounting records and, where material (or potentially material) to the consolidated financial statements, have been disclosed to you. We have complied with all aspects of contractual agreements that could have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements in the event of non-compliance.

- the measurement methods are appropriate and consistently applied;
- the significant assumptions used in determining fair value measurements represent our best estimates, are reasonable and have been consistently applied;
- no subsequent event requires adjustment to the accounting estimates and disclosures included in the consolidated financial statements; and
- the significant assumptions used in determining fair value measurements are consistent with the City’s planned courses of action. We have no plans or intentions that have not been disclosed to you, which may materially affect the recorded or disclosed fair values of assets or liabilities.

Significant estimates and measurement uncertainties known to management that are required to be disclosed in accordance with The Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) Public Sector Accounting Handbook Section PS 2130, Measurement Uncertainty, have been appropriately disclosed.

Assets and liabilities
We have satisfactory title or control over all assets. All liens or encumbrances on the City’s assets and assets pledged as collateral, to the extent material, have been disclosed in notes to the consolidated financial statements.
We have recorded or disclosed, as appropriate, all liabilities, in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards. Misstatements detected during the audit

Certain representations in this letter are described as being limited to those matters that are material. Items are also considered material, regardless of size, if they involve an omission or misstatement of accounting information that, in light of surrounding circumstances, makes it probable that the judgment of a reasonable person relying on the information would have been changed or influenced by the omission or misstatement.

We confirm that the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatements, including omissions.

The effects of the uncorrected misstatements in the consolidated financial statements, as summarized in the accompanying schedule (Appendix A), are immaterial, both individually and in the aggregate, to the consolidated financial statements taken as a whole. We confirm that we are not aware of any uncorrected misstatements other than those included in Appendix A.

The adjusted misstatements identified during your audit and summarized in the attached table (Appendix B) have been approved by the City and adjusted in the consolidated financial statements.

Cash and banks

The books and records properly reflect and record all transactions affecting cash funds, bank accounts and bank indebtedness of the City.

All cash balances are under the control of the City, free from assignment or other charges, and unrestricted as to use, except as disclosed to you.

The amount shown for cash on hand or in bank accounts excludes trust or other amounts which are not the property of the City.

Arrangements with financial institutions involving compensating balances or other arrangements involving restrictions on cash balances, line of credit, or similar arrangements have been properly disclosed.

All cash and bank accounts and all other properties and assets of the City are included in the consolidated financial statements as at December 31, 2015.

Restricted assets and revenues

All assets and revenues subject to restrictions are disclosed in the consolidated financial statements.

All externally restricted inflows have been recognized as revenue in the period in which the resources were used for the purpose(s) specified. All externally restricted inflows received before this criterion has been met have been reported as liabilities until the resources are used for the purposes specified.
Condensed supplementary financial information relative to internally restricted entities has been disclosed in the financial statements, by entity and as a whole.

Accounts receivable
All amounts receivable by the City were recorded in the books and records.

Receivables classified as current do not include any material amounts that are collectible after one year.
