SUMMARY

This report recommends that City Council state its intention to designate the property at 958 Broadview Avenue under Part IV, Section 29 of the Ontario Heritage Act for its cultural heritage value. The property contains the original Chester Public School (now known as Estonian House), a two-and-a-half storey, brick-clad building, built in 1891, and located on the west side of Broadview Avenue between Chester Hill Road and Pottery Road. The property was included on the City of Toronto's Heritage Register in 2006.

Following research and evaluation, staff have determined that the property at 958 Broadview Avenue meets Ontario Regulation 9/06, the provincial criteria prescribed for municipal designation under the Ontario Heritage Act. The designation of the property would identify the property's cultural heritage values and heritage attributes and enable City Council to control alterations to the site, enforce heritage property standards and maintenance, and refuse demolition.

COMMENTS

A location map (Attachment No. 1) and photographs (Attachment No. 2) are attached. Staff have completed the attached Heritage Property Research and Evaluation Report (Attachment No. 4).

Staff have determined that the property at 958 Broadview Avenue is worthy of designation under Part IV, Section 29 of the Ontario Heritage Act for its cultural heritage value, and meets the criteria for municipal designation prescribed by the Province of Ontario, Ontario Regulation 9/06 under the three categories of design, associative and contextual values.

As the oldest surviving East York school, the former Chester Public School/Estonian House is valued for its 135 year associations with the historic villages of Chester and Todmorden, the Estonian community and the Toronto architects, Gordon & Helliwell. Its design values are evident in the form, materials and details of the building which make it a fine representative of a hybrid of the American Richardsonian Romanesque and British Queen Anne styles. Located on the west side of Broadview Avenue, it has been a longstanding community landmark and an integral part of the Broadview neighbourhood whose history and development has been determined by its unique location, on the edge of the Don River Valley.

The school closed in 1959 and was purchased by Estonian House who adaptively re-used the building for a variety of community functions, undertaking a series of additions in 1962-63, 1975 and 1995. The original school building retains its integrity and the original exterior east elevation of the school is partially concealed and contained within the 1975 addition facing Broadview Avenue. The later additions, are not identified as heritage attributes.

The Statement of Significance (Reasons for Designation) (Attachment No. 3) are the Public Notice of Intention to Designate and will be advertised on the City of Toronto's web site in accordance with the City of Toronto Act provisions and served on the property owners and on the Ontario Heritage Trust according to the provisions of the Ontario Heritage Act.
