The Mayor and Members of Toronto City Council are deeply saddened to learn of the passing of Alasdair (Buzz) Grant on September 4, 2016.

Alasdair Grant was a local business man who graduated with his MBA in 1981 from Western University. A determined and hard worker, Mr. Grant enjoyed many professional successes over his lifetime. His colleagues and former classmates described him as both a mentor and a leader.

Alasdair Grant was actively involved in his community. He was well known for his commitment to the Lawrence Park Athletic Association where he was a devoted volunteer and enthusiastic soccer coach. While many knew Mr. Grant from the soccer field, he was also a regular sight at the hockey rink. The City of Toronto will remember Mr. Grant for the legacy he has left behind as a community builder and leader in the Lawrence Park Community.
