

CONDOLENCE MOTION

Moved by: Councillor James Pasternak

Seconded by: Councillor David Shiner

The Mayor and Members of Toronto City Council are deeply saddened by the passing of Alan Slobodsky on July 18, 2016.

Alan was born in Toronto in 1961. He graduated from Ryerson University with a degree in urban and regional planning. Alan worked for the City of North York and Toronto for 12 years including as former Mayor Mel Lastman's Chief of Staff. After leaving the Mayor's office in 2003, Alan set up a successful practice as a development consultant.

A man of great integrity and honour, Alan was truly devoted to both North York and the City of Toronto. His tireless efforts to ensure Toronto remained a liveable, safe and vibrant place to live, raise a family and grow a business will always be remembered. He was a true professional, diplomat and a consensus builder. This was reflected in the glowing tributes that came in from family, friends and colleagues upon his passing.

Alan is survived by his wife Rochelle, children Jonathan, Alyssa, and Tara, and siblings Mark, Raizell and Karyn.

The City Clerk is requested to convey, on behalf of the Members of Toronto City Council, our sincere sympathy to Alan Slobodsky's family.
