And Re: REQUEST FOR NOTIFICATION of any meetings of Council, Committees of Council, Community Council and/or Public Meetings and/or Community Information Meetings where the City Initiated Official Plan Amendment No. 352 and draft Zoning By-law Amendments are to be considered

And Re: REQUEST FOR NOTIFICATION of the passage of the City Official Plan Amendment No. 352 and draft Zoning By-law Amendments

Toronto and East York Community Council Item No.: 17.14

We are the solicitors for a number of property owners (attached as Schedule “A” to this letter) who have acquired sites which are located within the boundaries of the above-referenced official plan amendment and zoning by-law amendment. Many of the above noted property owners have either obtained or are in the process of obtaining final approvals in respect of applications for an Official Plan Amendment, Zoning By-law Amendment, Site Plan Approval, Committee of Adjustment approval and/or building permit approval, which properties were acquired in reliance upon the “in force” policies of the City of Toronto Official Plan and provisions in the “old” and “new” Zoning By-laws. While other property owners included in our list have purchased their property, after conducting their due diligence, reviewing the various permissions contained in the “in force” policies and relied on these policies in purchasing their property.

All of the properties in question, without the inclusion of a “grandfathering clause” to recognize pre-existing approvals and/or applications which are currently being processed, will be significantly impacted by the passage of the proposed official plan amendment and zoning by-law amendment. Many of the property owners in question either had no idea that such guidelines were intended to be “codified” as part of the Official Plan and Zoning By-law given the significant time which has passed since the acquisition of such properties, with other property owners having conducted an exhaustive review of the “in force” policies, who again, relied upon those “in force” policies prior to making a significant investment into their respective properties.

We have attempted to provide an initial list of our clients’ concerns, with our clients’ sincere hope that such concerns can be fully addressed prior to Council proceeding to consider the passage of any implementing amendments. The following sets out our clients’ current concerns:

Lack of consultation

The City’s Official Plan, in its section on “Building a Successful City” states that “the City and the private sector should work together as partners in creating a great city and achieving Toronto’s architectural and urban design potential”. In the case of this proposed Official Plan Amendment and Zoning By-law Amendment there has been no meaningful consultation with the private sector. The Final Report has been brought forward on a rushed basis, without any opportunity to review the concerns of the development industry. The Final Report was released on June 6, 2016, one week prior to Community Council’s consideration of same, with no draft zoning by-laws attached for review. It is unreasonable to expect that our clients could review the impacts of any draft zoning by-law amendment on their sites in such a rushed manner. In our respectful submission, Community Council’s consideration of this Final Report should be deferred in order to give all stakeholders an opportunity to review the draft amendments and how they will impact them and in order to have an open and transparent consultation process with the private and public sector to determine if a reasonable resolution of concerns can be achieved.

Attempt to pre-determine good design

The draft OPA 352 attempts to define a tall building, as a building with a tower and a base component. In our respectful submission, the draft OPA 352 is getting into architecture in a subjective manner without any clear delineation of what could or could not be defined as a tall building, which is inappropriate for an Official Plan amendment. No consideration has been given to site or area specific contexts where setbacks of less than 12.5m may be appropriate, including, but not limited to, residential buildings abutting commercial buildings, buildings that can be offset so that windows do not directly face each other, adjacent to properties that would not be a tall building in the future and sites where the context of the city block may warrant a smaller separation distance. The “Final Report” recognizes that there are projects that have provided less than the recommended setbacks that have been approved by either City Council or the Ontario Municipal Board on the basis of “good planning” despite the fact that they have not provided a 12.5m tower setback. In our respectful submission, the policies contained within the draft Official Plan Amendment, and the summary of the provisions which we understand will go into any draft zoning by-law amendment have the effect of stagnating creativity and predetermining what constitutes good design.

No transition clauses or prevailing clauses

There are no transition policies whatsoever, which in essence, render current owners with applications at various stages of the planning, site plan and permit process, unable to properly proceed with their developments with any certainty that such rights will not be adversely affected. For instance, applications which may have been filed, relying upon the "Clergy" principle which requires the "in force" policies to be applied, seem to be ignored by the new proposed OPA 352. Furthermore, applications for rezoning, which are either in the process of being circulated and/or finally approved with appeals and/or site plan approval pending, are again, potentially retroactively affected by the proposed amendment. Even applications where the zoning is "final and binding", with site plan applications pending resolution and/or building permit applications being processed, are again, subject to an uncertain retroactive result which would have the effect of stopping those application "in their tracks".

Again, the draft ZBA has not yet been released however the final report does not reference any provision in the draft zoning by-law amendments to recognize "in force" site specific zoning by-laws to the extent that there is a conflict between a site specific zoning by-law and the draft zoning by-law amendments. The draft zoning by-law amendments should include a provision that states that "Any pre-existing site specific zoning by-law amendments will prevail over this zoning by-law amendment". Without such provision, a site specific by-law may be deemed to not comply with the parent zoning by-law on the basis that it does not comply with these proposed new tall building setback requirements.

In light of the significant efforts and resources invested by our clients in pursuing the approval of various development scenarios on the properties listed in Schedule "A", which proposed and/or approved developments have gone through an extensive due diligence period, we hereby formally request that Community Council defer consideration of the staff recommendations in order to allow for an informed discussion about the details of City Staff's recommendations which cannot be achieved based on the lack of detail provided to date.

In the alternative, we respectfully request that at the very least, the draft City Initiated Tall Building Setbacks Official Plan Amendment and Zoning By-law Amendment be amended to address the above concerns before it is passed, so that our clients' current applications will not be prejudiced by the proposed new Official Plan policies and Zoning By-law provisions.

We also formally request that the writer, as well as every owner listed in Schedule "A", be provided with notice of any meetings of Council, Committees of Council, Community Council or Public Meetings/Community Consultation Meetings where reports related to the City Initiated Tall Building Setbacks Official Plan Amendment and Zoning By-law Amendment, are to be considered. We also respectfully request that both our clients and the writer be forwarded copies of any future reports and/or proposed by-laws affecting our clients' lands. Finally, we would respectfully request that both the writer and our clients be notified of the City's passage of any by-law affecting the Sites.

Should you have any questions or require any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact the writer, or Jessica Smuskowitz, a lawyer in our office.

Yours very truly,

Adam J. Brown
