In two of the programs, additional grant allocations are reported totalling $23,978 in 2015 and in 2016. DECISION HISTORY

The City of Toronto provides support to the not-for-profit sector through funding programs under the general authority for making municipal grants provided in Section 83 of the City of Toronto Act, 2006 (S.O. 2006, c.11)

In addition to their approval of the Community Investment Funding Strategy, City Council direct the Executive Director, Social Development, Finance and Administration to report to the September 11, 2017 meeting of the Community Development and Recreation Committee with a report on the social, economic, employment and public health impacts and outcomes of Community Grants. The report should include any available disaggregated data on the individuals who participate in the events, projects, programs and are employed through the City's Community Grants program.

COMMENTS

This report highlights the impact of the CPIP grants, comprised of six grant programs which represent $32,635,792 M in funding in 2016 for 1,430 projects and programs, serving a total of 1,248,436 residents including many designated groups. It notes the continuing pressures not-for-profits face to secure adequate, sustainable funding to respond to community needs and underscores the need for better systems to gather and report on grant impacts.
