Dear Toronto & East York Community Council Administrator:

The Brockton Haunt would like to request a "Letter of Non-Objection" be written by the Toronto & East York Community Council in support of an application for a Special Occasion Permit for a two-night community event showcasing local artists. The event is to be held at our place of business at 1150 College St on Friday, February 10th and Saturday, February 11th. The primary purpose of this event is to showcase local artists and bring together the Brockton Village neighbourhood for an evening of community building and art appreciation.

Our community art night's aim is to promote local artists, as we transform our coffee shop into a temporary art gallery for the weekend. The art will be for sale to the public, and the artist will collect all of the profit (The Brockton Haunt will not be taking a commission), therefore we would like to offer alcohol for sale to compensate our time, labour, and expenses. We will also be offering our regular coffee and espresso menu, as well as food and snacks for sale.

So far we have one confirmed artist to participate in the event - Andrea Fairfoul. She is a Toronto-based acrylic landscape painter and has been nominated for the 2016 Emerging Toronto Artist Award. We are currently in the works of confirming two other artists.

The event will be held from 7pm until 11pm on both Friday and Saturday night. Alcohol will be for sale the entire duration of the event, both nights.

Thank you for your time and consideration. If you have any further questions or concerns about our application, please let me know.

Sincerely,
