Re: Toronto Beer Week - September 15 to 23, 2017

Councilors,

We are asking that you designate the Toronto Beer Week Festival as a significant event for the city of Toronto.

Toronto Beer Week Ltd. (TBW)

The mission of TBW is to celebrate, promote, and further craft beer and local culture in Toronto by working with local pubs, restaurants, and craft breweries. TBW is responsible for organizing and marketing the Toronto Beer Week Festival (Beer Week), consisting of a wide variety of events at different venues across the core of the city.

TBW is a collectively owned organization involving some of Toronto's most seasoned and passionate beer industry members. Our team includes restaurateurs, brewers, media marketers, and authors. All bring their experience and vision to help create an event that celebrates the best of what Toronto has to offer and markets the experience to both residents and tourists. TBW has a not-for-profit mandate and re-invests any net proceeds into future events.

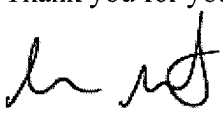

About Beer Week

This will be the 8th annual Toronto Beer Week Festival. The 2016 Beer Week was tremendously successful with 150 events presented over nine days and was designated an event of municipal significance. Seventy-five restaurants and bars participated along with forty breweries and importers. Ten thousand copies of the first annual Toronto Good Beer Guide were distributed, and some of the memorable events included the launch of the official Toronto Beer Week beer and the Summerhill LCBO, the Golden Tap Awards, beer festivals, special beer and food pairing menus, educational tastings, outdoor barbecues, a "hopera", and more. It was a citywide event that appealed to Torontonians sense of diversity and exploration and was attended by tens of thousands.

Where Does Beer Week fit in?
Beer Week helps round out Toronto's list of significant cultural events. It promotes local independent businesses and the food, drink, and culture unique to our city. A burgeoning craft beer scene and diverse hospitality industry is a significant tourism attraction and something that Toronto should be proud to show off to the world.

We hope that you agree that this festival is worthy of status as a significant event and will designate September 15 to 23, 2017 as Toronto Beer Week.

Thank you for your consideration,
