To my City Councillor and the Public Works & Infrastructure Committee members,

I'm calling on you to take action and to explore all options and tools to stop the use of non-recyclable and harmful plastics in Toronto.

Disposable products and excessive packaging are causing major harm to the environment, both when they are produced and at the end of their life.

Black plastic, coffee pods, take out cups and 'compostable' products are just some of the single-use plastics that are polluting our environment and contaminating our recycling system. New single-use products and plastics are being put on the market every day and we residents and our recycling facilities can't keep up!

This contamination could cost the City of Toronto up to $9 million extra this year alone.

As other levels of government consider actions on plastic, Toronto can join the fight. I'm happy to see that Toronto Council asked staff to investigate what powers the City has to reduce or eliminate problem single-use materials with bans, fees, restrictions or other tools.

When City staff report back in July on PW28.8 about what the City can do to reduce single-use plastics, I want to see immediate actions to stop plastic pollution.

Can I count on you to show your support for immediate action on plastic waste?

Sincerely,
