Chester Hill Road and Lookout – Design Improvements

Dear Chair and Members of the Toronto and East York Community Council,

Chester Hill Road is a residential street in East York which dead ends to the west at the Chester Hill Lookout. The street looks like most residential streets in Toronto and East York but, in fact, it is quite unique. The Chester Hill lookout is frequently promoted online as a tourist destination and, as such, residents experience high traffic volumes, frequent littering, loud music, parties, and speeding. I have met with the residents of Chester Hill Road who have expressed that they welcome all visitors to the lookout but want to see safety improvements implemented to ensure the lookout remains enjoyable for visitors and residents alike.

I hope you'll support this recommendation.

Recommendation:

1. Toronto and East York Community Council request Transportation Services develop an appropriate street redesign to pedestrianize the Chester Hill Lookout and report back to Toronto and East York Community Council at the April 7, 2020 meeting.

Sincerely,

Paula Fletcher
