Recommended Candidates and Biographies for the Leaside Memorial Community Gardens Arena Board

Glenn Asano

A proven business leader with extensive international business experience, Glenn is a Partner and Principal Consultant for the strategy and business development practice with Centred Performance. He is also an Instructor with the Ted Rogers School of Management at Ryerson University. He earned a PhD in management, studying the impact of social media on customer value, brand and relationships. He also holds a post graduate diploma in management research methods, and an MBA from the University of Toronto.

Janice Ivory-Smith

After graduating from the Ontario College of Art and Design, Janice entered the workforce as a Graphic Designer, and eventually, Creative Director. Janice, her husband and son have lived in North Leaside for close to 30 years. She is a long-time supporter of Habitat for Humanity Toronto, having spent time building homes here and abroad. Janice attends Yorkminster Park Baptist Church and volunteers on various boards.

Kathleen Mackenzie

I have been involved over the years with many organizations in various volunteer capacities and have also been a member of several Boards serving as a Director and /or Chair. This has given me experience and insight into board management, governance, financial oversight, strategic planning, fundraising and risk management. I have been involved with Leaside Gardens for many years and have a great fondness for the facility and the community. I have participated as a fund raiser, as a founding member and Chair of the Board of the Leaside Sports Hall of Fame, as Chair of the Board of the Skating Club, as Chair of the Leaside Memorial Community Gardens Safety Committee and as a member of the Leaside Memorial Community Gardens Board of Directors since 2017. I own and operate a multi-disciplinary Medical Clinic.

Jennifer Purves

I am an accomplished financial expert with extensive experience in enterprise risk management, financial process optimization and regulatory compliance. I am laser focused on innovation and integration as the key levers of value in today's governance needs. Excellent communication and analytical skills underpin my ability to facilitate discussions on complex topics amongst stakeholders with, at times, competing agendas.

Craig Uyeno

At age four, Craig learned to skate at Leaside Gardens and progressed into a proud member of the Leaside Flames youth program. He went on to play prep school hockey at Choate Rosemary Hall in Connecticut and NCAA Division 3 hockey at Tufts University in Massachusetts. After graduating Summa Cum Laude with a degree in Economics, he will be working as an equity analyst at Point72 Asset Management. Craig is eager to give back to the Leaside community that provided him the opportunity to pursue his goals in hockey, academia, and professionally.
