

ATTACHMENT 2 (APPENDIX 5): MONTHLY PERMIT RATE ANALYSIS

As part of the off-street rate review, monthly permit rates are reviewed to determine if the rates:

1. Meet TPA Board Policy 2-1, Parking Rates – Off-Street Facilities guideline - Monthly Permit rates should normally be between fifteen and twenty times the day maximum (benchmarked to the new proposed day maximum); and
2. Where possible, align with competitor rates to ensure proposed rates are competitive.

TPA uses pricing incentives to encourage short-term parking and discourage discretionary commuter parking in an effort to provide parking services to the highest number of customers. To support this mandate, TPA has been reducing or completely removing (setting the monthly quota to zero) the number of available Monthly Permits at facilities to meet its mandate to provide short-term parking. In some facilities TPA has contractual / legal obligations to sell a fixed number of Monthly Permits and is not able to reduce or remove the permits issued.

Where Monthly Permits are available or still in use, TPA has been incrementally increasing permit rates unless there is extenuating circumstance (i.e. a portion of the parking spaces at a facility were closed for construction resulting in poor availability and possibly frustrated customers) that would warrant a deferral to the increase. In instances where the benchmark is 30% higher than the current rate, a maximum 30% increase has been proposed in order to align with TPA's policy and a gradual incremental increase in rates will be proposed at these locations over time in order to meet the benchmark.

As of May 2022, TPA has over 1,600 active Monthly Permits at 111 car parks. Table 1 below details where these monthly permits are issued. In Table 1, there are 72 car park locations where TPA is proposing a Monthly Permit rate increase. Table 2 shows 137 car park locations where there are no Monthly Permits issued as of May 2022. TPA is proposing Monthly Permit rate increases at 26 of these 137 car park locations as part of its approved rate structure in the event that Monthly Permits become available in the future (based on customer demand and space availability).
