COMMENTS

On March 15, 2022, a demolition permit application was submitted by the applicant, on behalf of the owner to demolish the existing 2-storey dwelling at 73 Raglan Avenue. As indicated in a letter dated April 19, 2022, it has been identified that certain geotechnical and hydrogeological testing is necessary, including drilling holes where the current property is, in order to facilitate the re-development of the site in accordance with Council and Ontario Land Tribunal approvals.

The proposed redevelopment consists of a new 28 Storey, residential tower with 3 levels of underground parking.

The applicant submitted a letter requesting that demolition permits be issued without a replacement building permit in order to proceed with the required testing.

The existing houses are not currently on the list of designated historical buildings.

The land is not within a Toronto and Region Conservation Authority regulated area.

Dear Mr. Eichfuss-Clarke:

Re: 73 Raglan Ave Demolition Permit Application 22 123157 DEM 00 DM

We have filed the above demolition permit application for 73 Raglan Ave., a vacant residential building. The Property is located in the former City of York.

It has been identified that certain geotechnical and hydrogeological testing is necessary, including drilling holes where the current property is, in order to facilitate the re-development of the site in accordance with Council and Ontario Land Tribunal approvals. We require this demolition permit urgently so that we can demolish the building and begin the testing necessary to obtain a Building Permit.

We request that the requisite Staff Report be brought forward to Community Council in accordance with the Municipal Code Chapter 363-6.3(D) as soon as possible

Yours truly,

McCarthy Tétrault LLP
