COMMENTS

There are currently two positions under consideration

The terms of two members, Fenton Jagdeo and Julie Osborne, ended on March 27, 2023, and they are continuing to serve until successors are appointed.

All public members will serve a four year term

The term of office for public members appointed by City Council is four years. The members appointed through this process will serve a term ending on June 16, 2027, and until successors are appointed.

Composition of the Toronto Transit Commission

The board consists of 10 members composed of:

- 6 members of Council
- 4 public members

Public members should meet certain qualifications

Public members of the board shall have directorship and executive-level experience and collectively represent a range of skills, knowledge, and experience with one or more large organizations in the following areas:

- strategic business management, including transformative change management
- financial management, accounting, law, and engineering
- customer service or marketing management
- management or planning with a rail or public transit organization
- formulation and/or management of public-private partnerships
- capital project/construction management or capital procurement/supply chain management
- operations and information technology
- labour relations/industrial safety management
- professional knowledge and working experience of urban sustainability, intersectionality, and inclusive governance
- understanding and/or experience with TTC operations

Public members must satisfy certain eligibility requirements

To be eligible for appointment to this board public members must meet the eligibility requirements set out in the City of Toronto's Public Appointments Policy.

In addition, persons who are owners, employees, or agents of companies that are engaged in business with the TTC, or could be reasonably expected to engage in procurement opportunities with the Commission on transit-related projects, shall not be considered for positions as public members.

Public members receive remuneration

The public member vice chair receives a $10,000 annual retainer, and other public members receive a $5,000 annual retainer. Public members also receive a $450 per diem for meetings attended.

Public release of the names of the recommended candidates

The name of the recommended candidates will be publicly reported once the Civic Appointments Committee forwards its recommendations to City Council.
