Mandate

Just as His Majesty's Loyal Opposition is viewed as the caucus tasked with keeping the government in check, it is the mandate of the OPNFC to hold Council accountable to their actions or intentions, realized or inferred.

Guiding Principal

"An opposition party is a political party that does not win enough seats in a general election to form a government. The elected members of that party instead serve in the legislature as the opposition. An opposition party criticizes and challenges the governing party, with the goal of improving legislation and forming the government in the next election. The opposition party with the most seats is called the Official Opposition or His Majesty's Loyal Opposition. This title emphasizes that the party remains loyal to the Crown even as they oppose the governing party."

As municipal councils are not political parties, nor is the OPNFC a true political party, although it is a registered Social advocacy organization (BIN 1000510382) based on the principles of a true opposition political party.
