Recommended Candidates and Biographies for the Moss Park Arena Board

Terence Mark

Born and raised in Toronto, I have a B.Sc. from the University of Toronto and a Ph.D. from UCLA. I currently manage a team of bioinformatics scientists at a large Canadian medical diagnostics company. I have lived most of my adult life in the Cabbagetown area, where I live with my wife and two sons. I love Moss Park - I played hockey at Moss Park over several years and my children also learned the game there, both at evening hockey programmes and at summer and March break camps.

Sean O'Connor

Sean is a long-time resident of downtown Toronto. He has served as a public affairs executive with experience in strategic communications, crisis management, relationship-building and policy development. He is also a trained mediator and adjudicator, particularly in areas involving injured workers. He began his career as a reporter at daily newspapers. With his family, Sean has been an avid user of Moss Park Arena and looks forward to supporting its important role in the community.

Alexandra Panousis

Alex Panousis is an executive leader with over 20 years of expertise in media, digital technology, commerce and communications. She is known for driving growth by leading organizations through complex changes and helping brands and companies transform their businesses. Alex has led teams at Publicis Media, Havas, Dentsu Media, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the National Post, and several start-ups. She serves on several industry boards, including Aftermetoo, NABS, The City of Toronto and Moss Park.
