

The traffic volume counts below were collected by the City of Toronto's data collection team during the afternoon peak hour period representing through traffic headed in the direction of Allen Road on weekday PM peak hour in 2012 (pre-construction) and 2024.

A map with 2024 counts and traffic analysis model volumes (based on 2012 motor vehicle volumes) compared. The 2012 motor vehicle volumes were used as they were the highest volumes within the past fifteen years. The 2024 counts confirm the traffic analysis volumes are conservative.
