Recommended Candidates and Biographies for the Ted Reeve Community Arena Board

Paul M Casey

Paul grew up in east Toronto and returned in 1989 with his wife to raise their three children in the best neighborhood in the City. He is an energetic hockey coach and player and has worked with youth and adult hockey teams, and youth baseball and soccer teams. Paul is a U of T Commerce grad, Certified Public Accountant, Chartered Insolvency and Restructuring Professional, and Licensed Insolvency Trustee. He is semi-retired from his corporate restructuring, insolvency and crisis management practice.

Adrienne Johnstone

I grew up in a small town where the arena was the center of our community. It provided a hub that was equally athletic and social for all ages. To this day, that building feels like home. When I came to Toronto and to the Beach community, I again felt those strong neighborhood bonds. My children played hockey and lacrosse at Ted Reeve and it became the center of our family's world. I now wish to give back to the community, to make Ted Reeve Community Arena an accessible and welcoming home for all.

Dario Gonzalez Mardjetko

Born in Argentina, I made my way to Canada in 2022, bringing 20 years of experience across various industries and in leadership roles. Integrity, passion, commitment, and creativity are my strengths. I've recently moved near the Arena, and it's captured my heart. Keen to contribute, I'm excited about the chance to volunteer as a Board member, driven by a belief in the community-building power of sports. Ready to enhance Ted Reeve Community Arena!

Jonathan O'Keefe

Jonathan O'Keefe has lived in the Beach community for almost 20 years. His volunteer experience includes positions with Cherry Beach Soccer Club and Ted Reeve Hockey Association, including coaching, team management and treasury. Jonathan has worked in Finance for 25 years. For the past 15 years, he's been happily employed by Morningstar Canada where he has had roles in Sales and Customer Success and currently manages multiple teams. Jonathan is very rewarded by his community and corporate work.

Amanda Rachmat

Amanda grew up in Surrey, British Columbia as an avid contributor to arts and recreation as an athlete, dancer, and artist. Looking to support her community, she has worked at the Downtown Surrey Business Improvement Area, Vancouver Mural Festival, and Simon Fraser University's Centre for Comparative Muslim Studies supporting community engagement and events. Moving to Toronto in 2020 Amanda continued her community work by chairing Shopify's Asian Employee Resource Group and volunteering with various arts and Two-Spirit, Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer and/or Questioning, Intersex, Asexual+ non-profit organizations.
