

To Whom It May Concern,

On behalf of Harbourfront Centre, I am writing to express our support and appreciation for the rehabilitation of the Amsterdam Bridge.

As one of Toronto's most beloved cultural and recreational destinations, Harbourfront Centre hosts 6.3 million visits a year from across Canada, including our local residents, marina users and international visitors who depend on our safe, accessible, and vibrant waterfront infrastructure. The Amsterdam Bridge, which spans Marina Four, is not only a functional connection but also a symbolic link between our 10-acre campus, the waterfront trail, and the broader communities we serve across Toronto, and Canada.

Since the bridge was damaged during the COVID-19 period, we have worked closely with the City of Toronto to identify a path toward restoration. The City's renewed commitment to advancing a rehabilitation plan marks a significant and hopeful milestone for all who live, work, play and gather along the waterfront. We are deeply grateful for the City's leadership, collaboration, and investment in ensuring that this essential piece of infrastructure can once again serve our community and visitors safely.

As this process moves forward, Harbourfront Centre remains committed to open communication and partnership. We will continue to work with the city, our marina community, and local stakeholders to minimize disruptions during construction and to ensure a smooth transition as the rehabilitation proceeds.

With this investment, we look forward to preserving a vital part of our shared landscape while advancing a vibrant waterfront for all to enjoy.

With appreciation,

Cathy Loblaw
