Recommended Candidates and Biographies for the Ted Reeve Community Arena Board

Syeda Jaana Ali

Experienced sales and relationship manager with over 15 years in aviation and finance sectors. Former Alumni Senator at Toronto Metropolitan University (2021–2023), skilled in governance, stakeholder engagement, and strategic planning. Proven track record in driving business growth, managing partnerships, and fostering community connections. Committed to supporting Ted Reeve Community Arena's mission to serve and unite the local community.

Jay McDonald

Jay McDonald is the owner of Elite Construction, a local Toronto company he has led for over 20 years, delivering high-quality, large-scale projects across the city. He served as President of the South Kajshe Lake Road Association for five years and continues to volunteer as Past President. At Ted Reeve, Jay has been a dedicated coach for the past four years, including experience as a head coach, and is the proud parent of two players in the Ted Reeve Hockey program. Through both his business and personal commitments, he has supported schools, community fundraising, and the local Lions Club. Jay is committed to helping ensure Ted Reeve Arena remains a safe and welcoming hub where families and youth can come together for sport and community.

Iain McLeod

As a seasoned Beaches resident for nearly four decades, I've had the privilege of living and working closely with local youth and their families throughout my time here. My professional background in Sport and Recreation, combined with an extensive coaching career, has provided a unique and exciting foundation for my service on the Ted Reeve Board. The Ted Reeve Arena holds a special place in my heart, filled with cherished memories for both my family and myself. As an active Board member for the past three years, it has been an honor to contribute to an institution that continues to help create those very same lasting experiences for others in our community.

Eric Shuell

Eric grew up on the ice and field at Ted Reeve Arena. He played in the community house league, suited up for the Ted Reeve Thunder in the Greater Toronto Hockey League, and played rugby on the adjacent field while attending Malvern Collegiate. Now a Sales executive at SAP, he previously held leadership roles at Amazon Web Services and Amazon. A McGill University graduate and former varsity rugby player, Eric also served as President of Right to Play McGill and Chair of Movember, leading student-driven campaigns that raised funds for men's health. He co-founded Open Canvas, a

Toronto-based nonprofit music and arts festival focused on accessible creative programming. Eric stays active through rugby with the Bay Street Pigs and playing pick-up hockey across the city whenever he can. Fluent in French and experienced in both Toronto and Montreal, he brings a youthful perspective, a deep commitment to community, and a desire to contribute to the long-term vision and future of the Ted Reeve Arena.
