Comments:

On behalf of Hanlan's MWEZ Community Watch, we would like to provide the following comments.

In 2025, our group undertook the initiative to document activity within the Motorized Watercraft Exclusion Zone (MWEZ) at Hanlan's Point Beach. Our report is included via the link in our signature and is also attached to this email.

As of the week ending October 19, key statistics from our observations include:

- 1656+ total observed violations
- 32% by boats and sailboats
- 64% by personal watercraft (PWCs, noted as jet skis)
- 4% by motorized dinghies (noted as dinghies and tiny sailboats with motors)

These statistics should be considered alongside the full observations and summaries detailed in the 2025 Hanlan's MWEZ Violation Observations Report.

Our group is preparing for the 2026 beach season and will continue documenting activity within the MWEZ.

1. Scope of Enforcement

The current motion appears to narrow the original MWEZ mandate by focusing primarily on PWCs. While PWCs account for the majority of violations, boats and sailboats represent the second-largest category and must not be overlooked.

Motorized dinghies, although a smaller share, were also observed and often appeared to intentionally circumvent regulations by mimicking compliance (e.g., paddling or sailing within the exclusion zone). These vessels are particularly concerning as they:

- Lack visible PCL numbers

- Can easily access the shoreline
- Use motors when needed for maneuvering
- Have been observed transporting individuals between offshore boats and the beach

Members of our group occasionally informed watercraft users of the regulations. While some responded cooperatively, many reacted with hostility or intimidation. This reinforces the need for clear, visible, and consistent enforcement by appropriate authorities across all motorized watercraft.

We request that Council re-align with the original MWEZ mandate and ensure enhanced enforcement applies to all motorized watercraft, including PWCs, across MWEZ locations and the broader waterfront.

2. Buoy Placement and Visibility

The proposed number of two buoys is insufficient, particularly given the non-linear geography of Hanlan's Point Beach. Our observations indicate that wide spacing and a lack of clear boundary markers contributed to both accidental and deliberate intrusions. In many cases, watercraft used the zone as a shortcut to travel between areas.

In 2025, buoys were undersized, and the graphics and warning text were not sufficiently visible.

We request that:

- Buoys are adequately sized and spaced to clearly define the zone
- Graphics and warning signage are large, legible, and highly visible

3. Need for a 2026 Plan

To date, we have not seen an official plan outlining rules for the MWEZ for the 2026 beach season. Without a clearly defined and communicated framework, enforcement and education efforts will remain ineffective.

Despite the existence of rules in 2025, our observations showed a clear lack of enforcement.

We request that a comprehensive and official MWEZ plan, including rules and enforcement protocols, be finalized and communicated prior to the start of the 2026 beach season.

Thank you for your time. Please feel free to reach out if you have any questions.

Countdown to beach season is on. See you there!

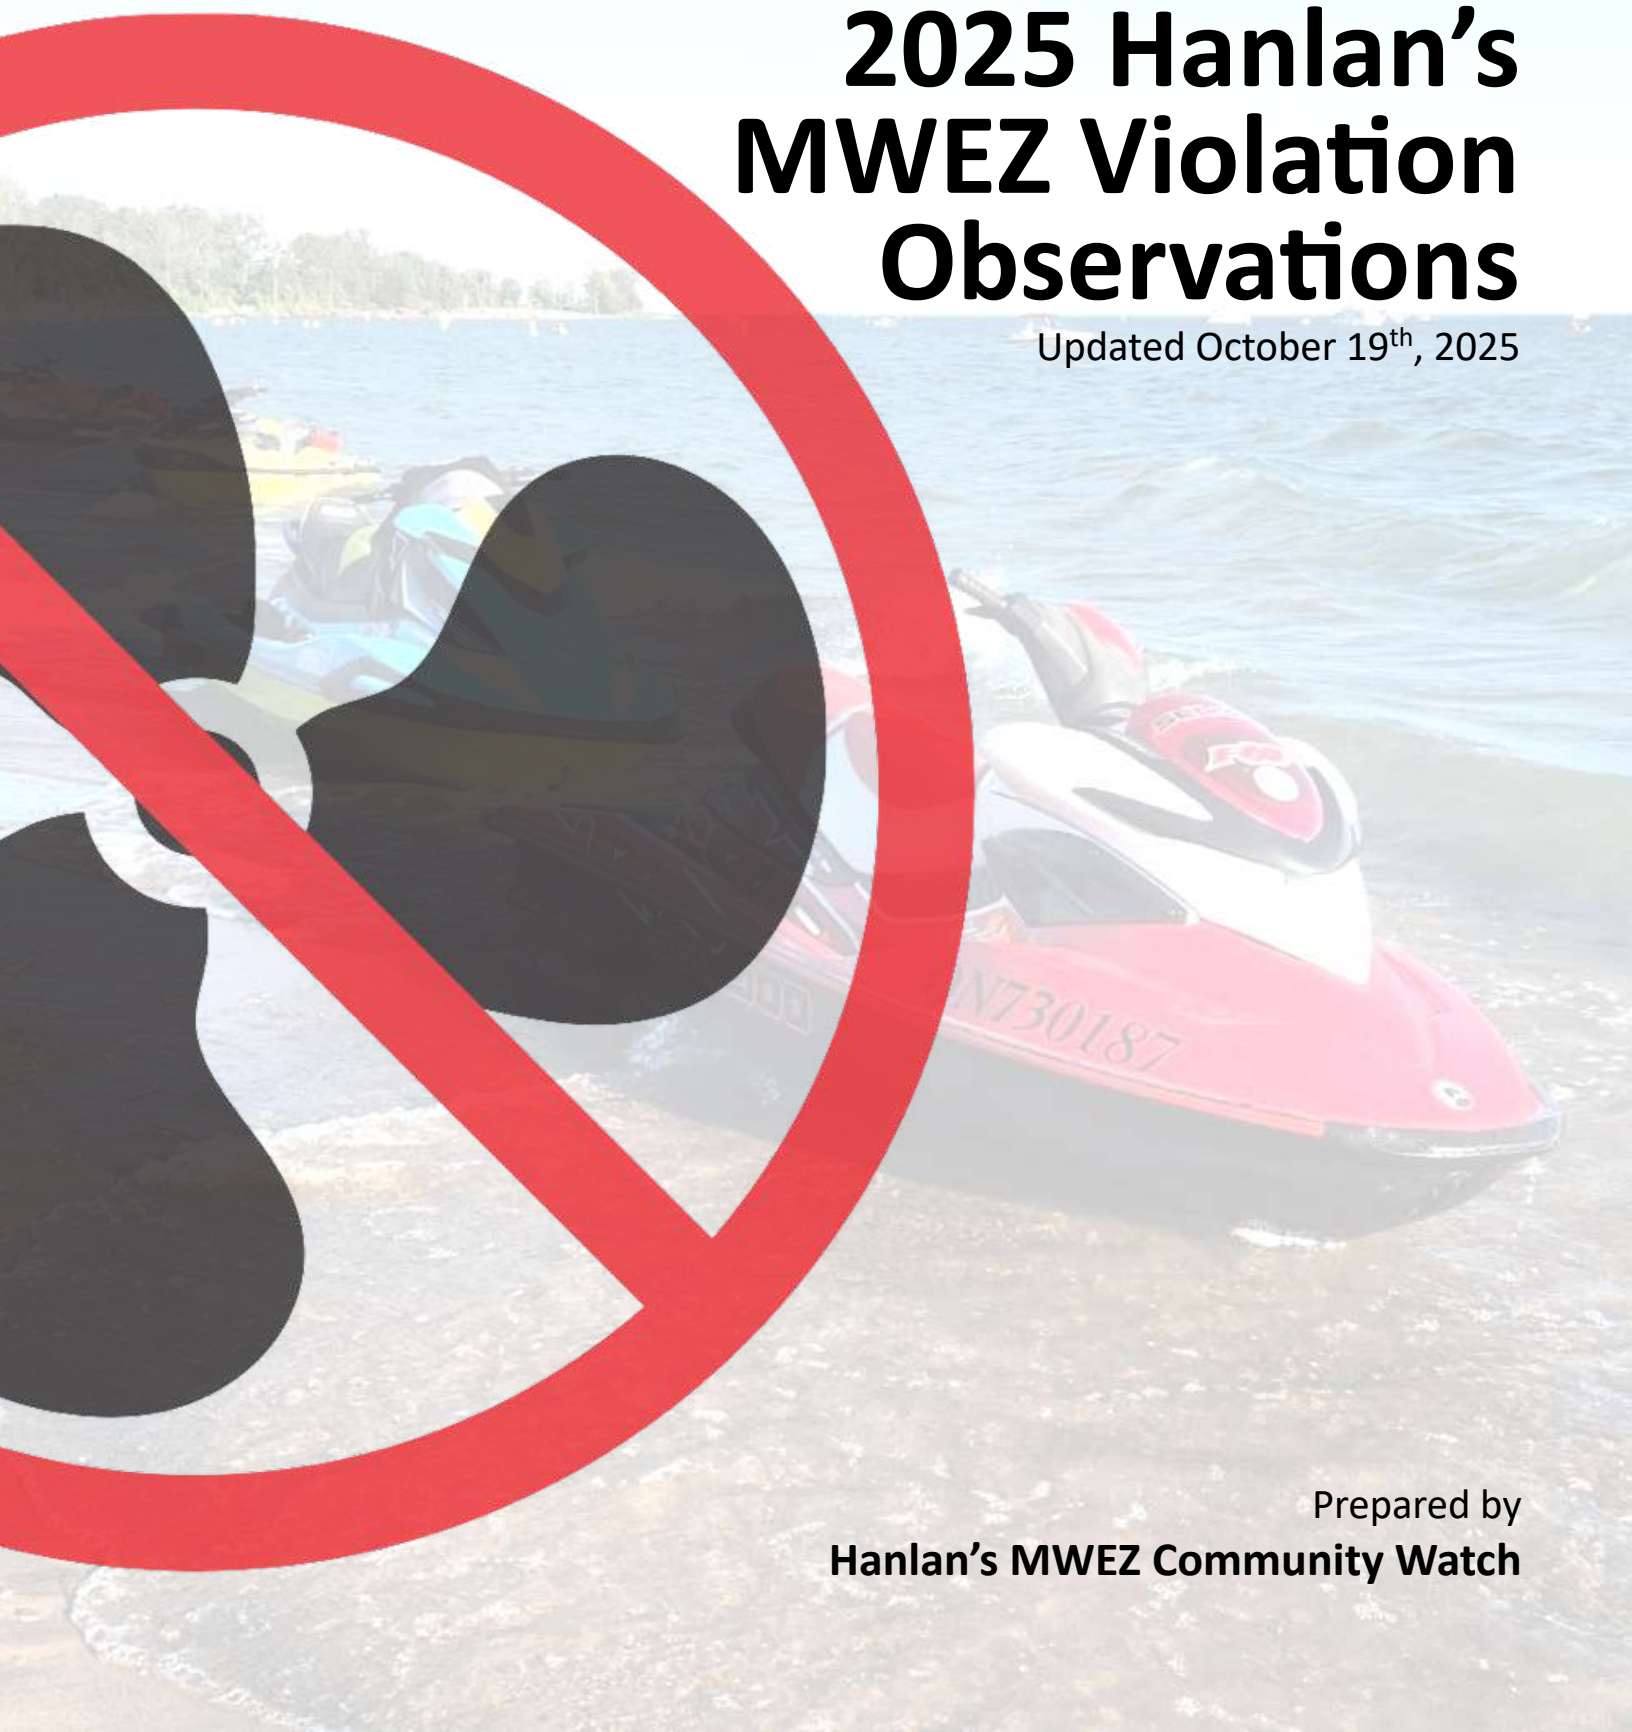

Cheers,

Hanlan's MWEZ Community Watch

Executive Summary

Executive Summary

Health, Safety, and Environmental Protection at Hanlan's Point Beach

This report presents clear evidence of a consistent lack of enforcement of the Motorized Watercraft Exclusion Zone (MWEZ) bylaw by the Toronto Police Service (TPS) Marine Unit along the full stretch of Hanlan's Point Beach. Despite the MWEZ parameters, TPS Marine Unit have repeatedly cruised through the area only a few times per day on average, often ignoring clear violations — even when motorized watercrafts are anchored near or directly on the shore. We have observed numerous cases where TPS Marine Unit passed boats and jet-skis in violation without educating operators or issuing tickets. In short, little is being done to actively support this new pilot program, which was intended to protect swimmers, human-powered watercraft users, and the shoreline environment.

Buoy Placement: The current number of buoys and their spacing are inadequate. Zones remain confusing, and “no-boat” boundaries are not respected. Stronger buoy presence with larger, clearer graphics is needed.

Lost Revenue: If tickets are not being issued, the City of Toronto is losing significant potential revenue while compliance remains low. Active enforcement would both deter violations and recover costs of the program.

Key Observations

- TPS Marine Unit cruises the area only a few times per day at best
- Violations observed even near and on the shoreline
- No visible evidence of education or ticketing
- Jet-skis constitute the majority of exclusion zone violations, followed by boats & sailboats
- Lifeguards could play a stronger role in keeping watercrafts out of swim zones

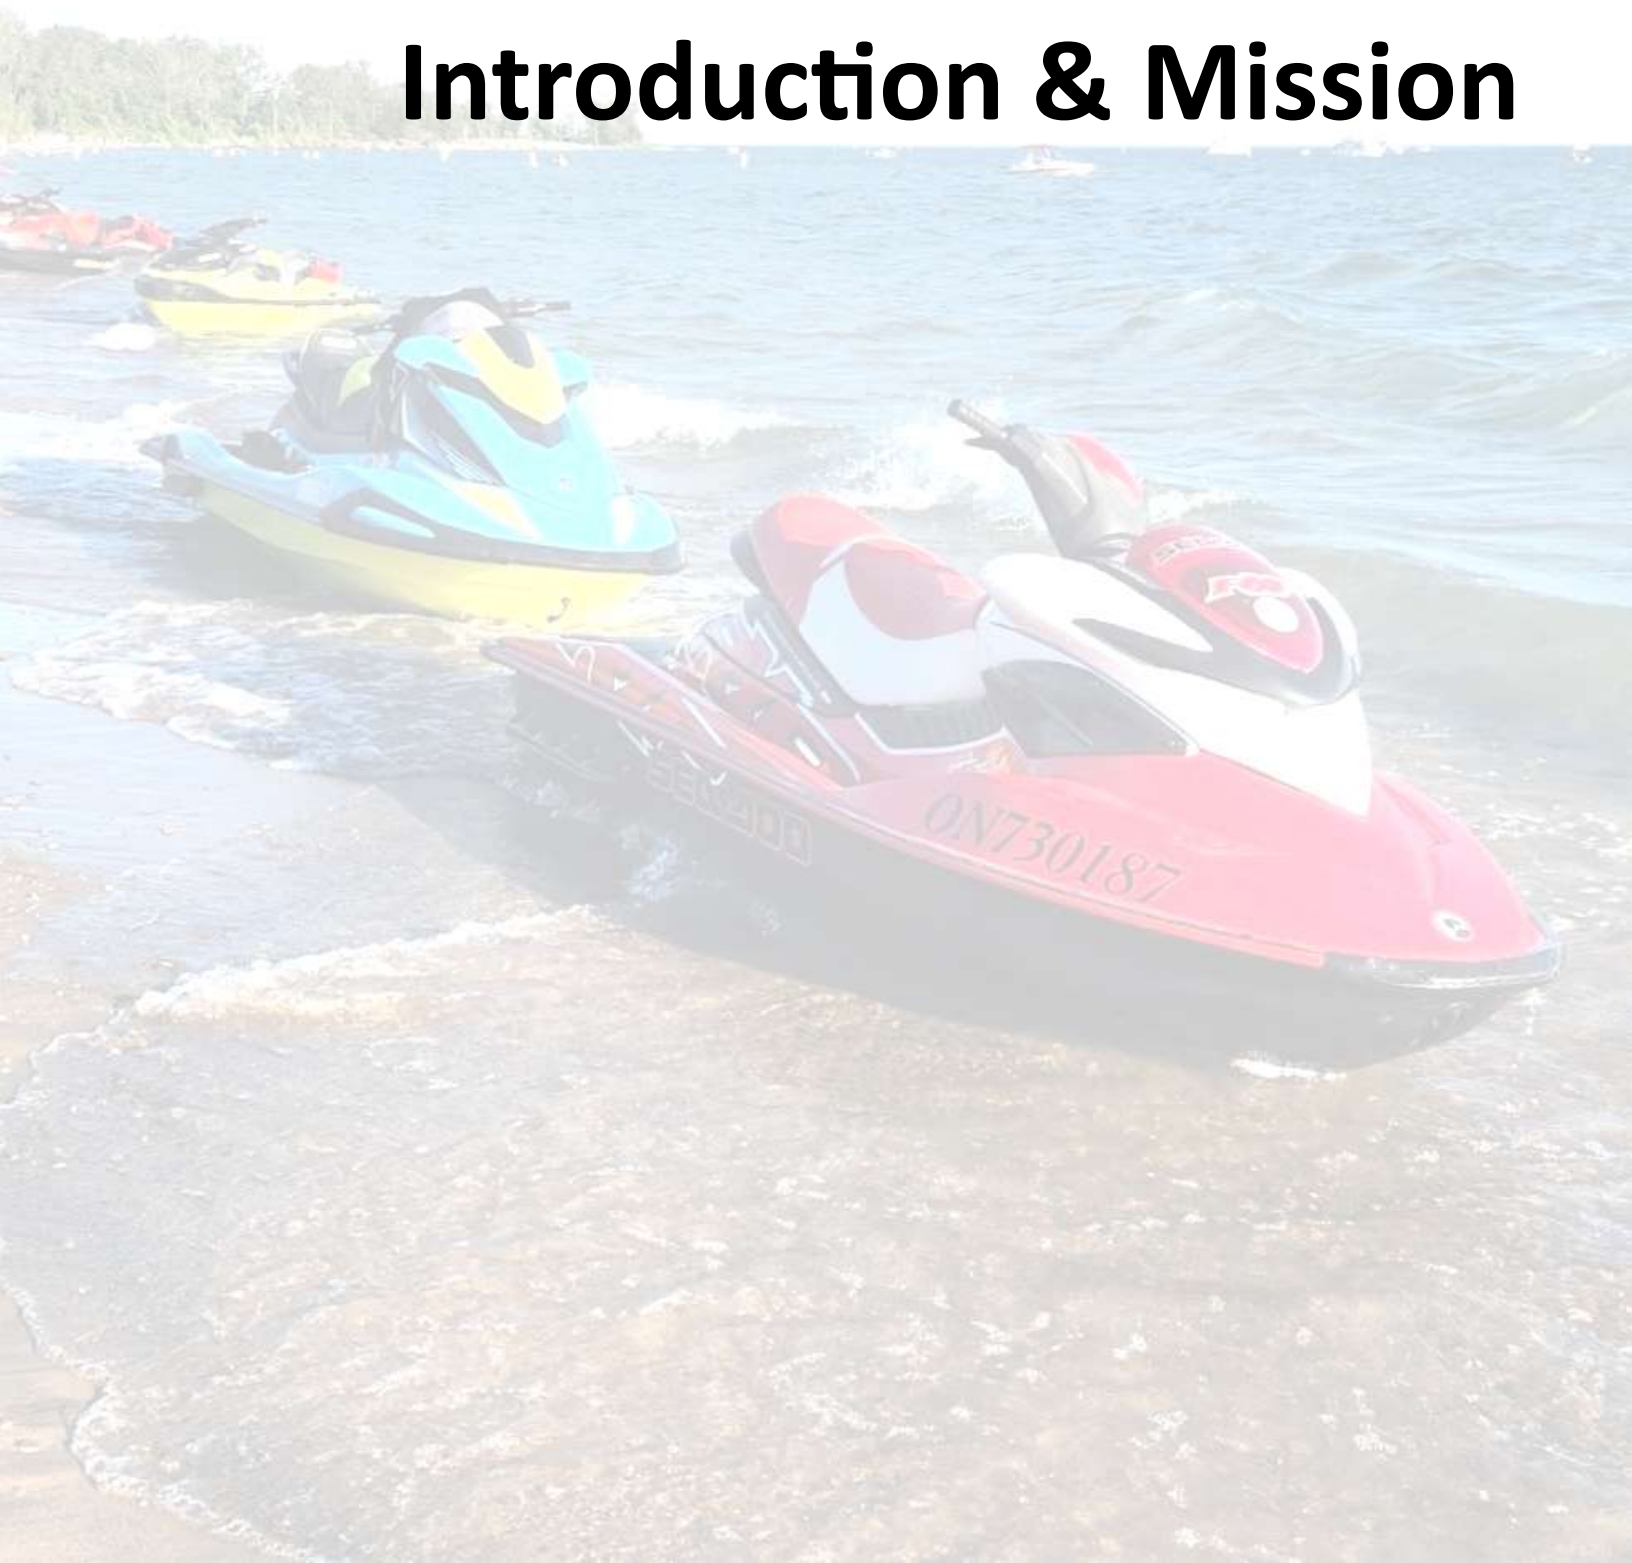

Recommendations

- Increase the number, size, and clarity of buoy markers (larger graphics, closer spacing)
- Expand public education for boaters and jet-ski operators
- Increase TPS Marine Unit enforcement presence, especially at or near the shoreline
- Empower lifeguards to enforce swim zone restrictions more actively
- Ensure consistent ticketing of violations — failure to do so results in both public risk and lost City of Toronto revenue

Call to Action

Hanlan's Point Beach deserves full enforcement of the MWEZ bylaw. Without visible ticketing and increased enforcement, this pilot program risks becoming symbolic rather than protective. Stronger buoy infrastructure, better education, and active ticketing will protect health, safety, and the environment — while also ensuring taxpayer dollars are not wasted and potential enforcement revenue is not lost.

Introduction & Mission

Introduction & Mission

This report has been compiled by a group of regular beachgoers who frequent the mid section of North Beach at Hanlan's Point Beach. As long-time visitors, this group deeply values the oasis-like atmosphere that Hanlan's Point Beach has traditionally provided — a rare urban refuge for relaxation, swimming, and community gathering.

However, over recent years, the group has witnessed a sharp decline in the beach's tranquility and safety due to the growing presence and disruptive behavior of boats and jet-skis in the area. These issues include, but are not limited to:

- Boats and jet-skis playing excessively loud music
- Large numbers of boats congregating to host parties near the beach
- Boats and jet-skis speeding or cruising dangerously close to shore
- Boats and jet-skis anchoring near or directly on the shoreline
- Jet-skis performing stunts in or near swimming areas
- Instances of sexual harassment originating from party boats and jet-skis
- Repeated disregard for swimmer safety
- Boats and jet-skis coming dangerously close to people in the water

The lack of enforcement from Toronto Police Service (TPS) Marine Unit over the years has allowed these problems to persist and escalate.

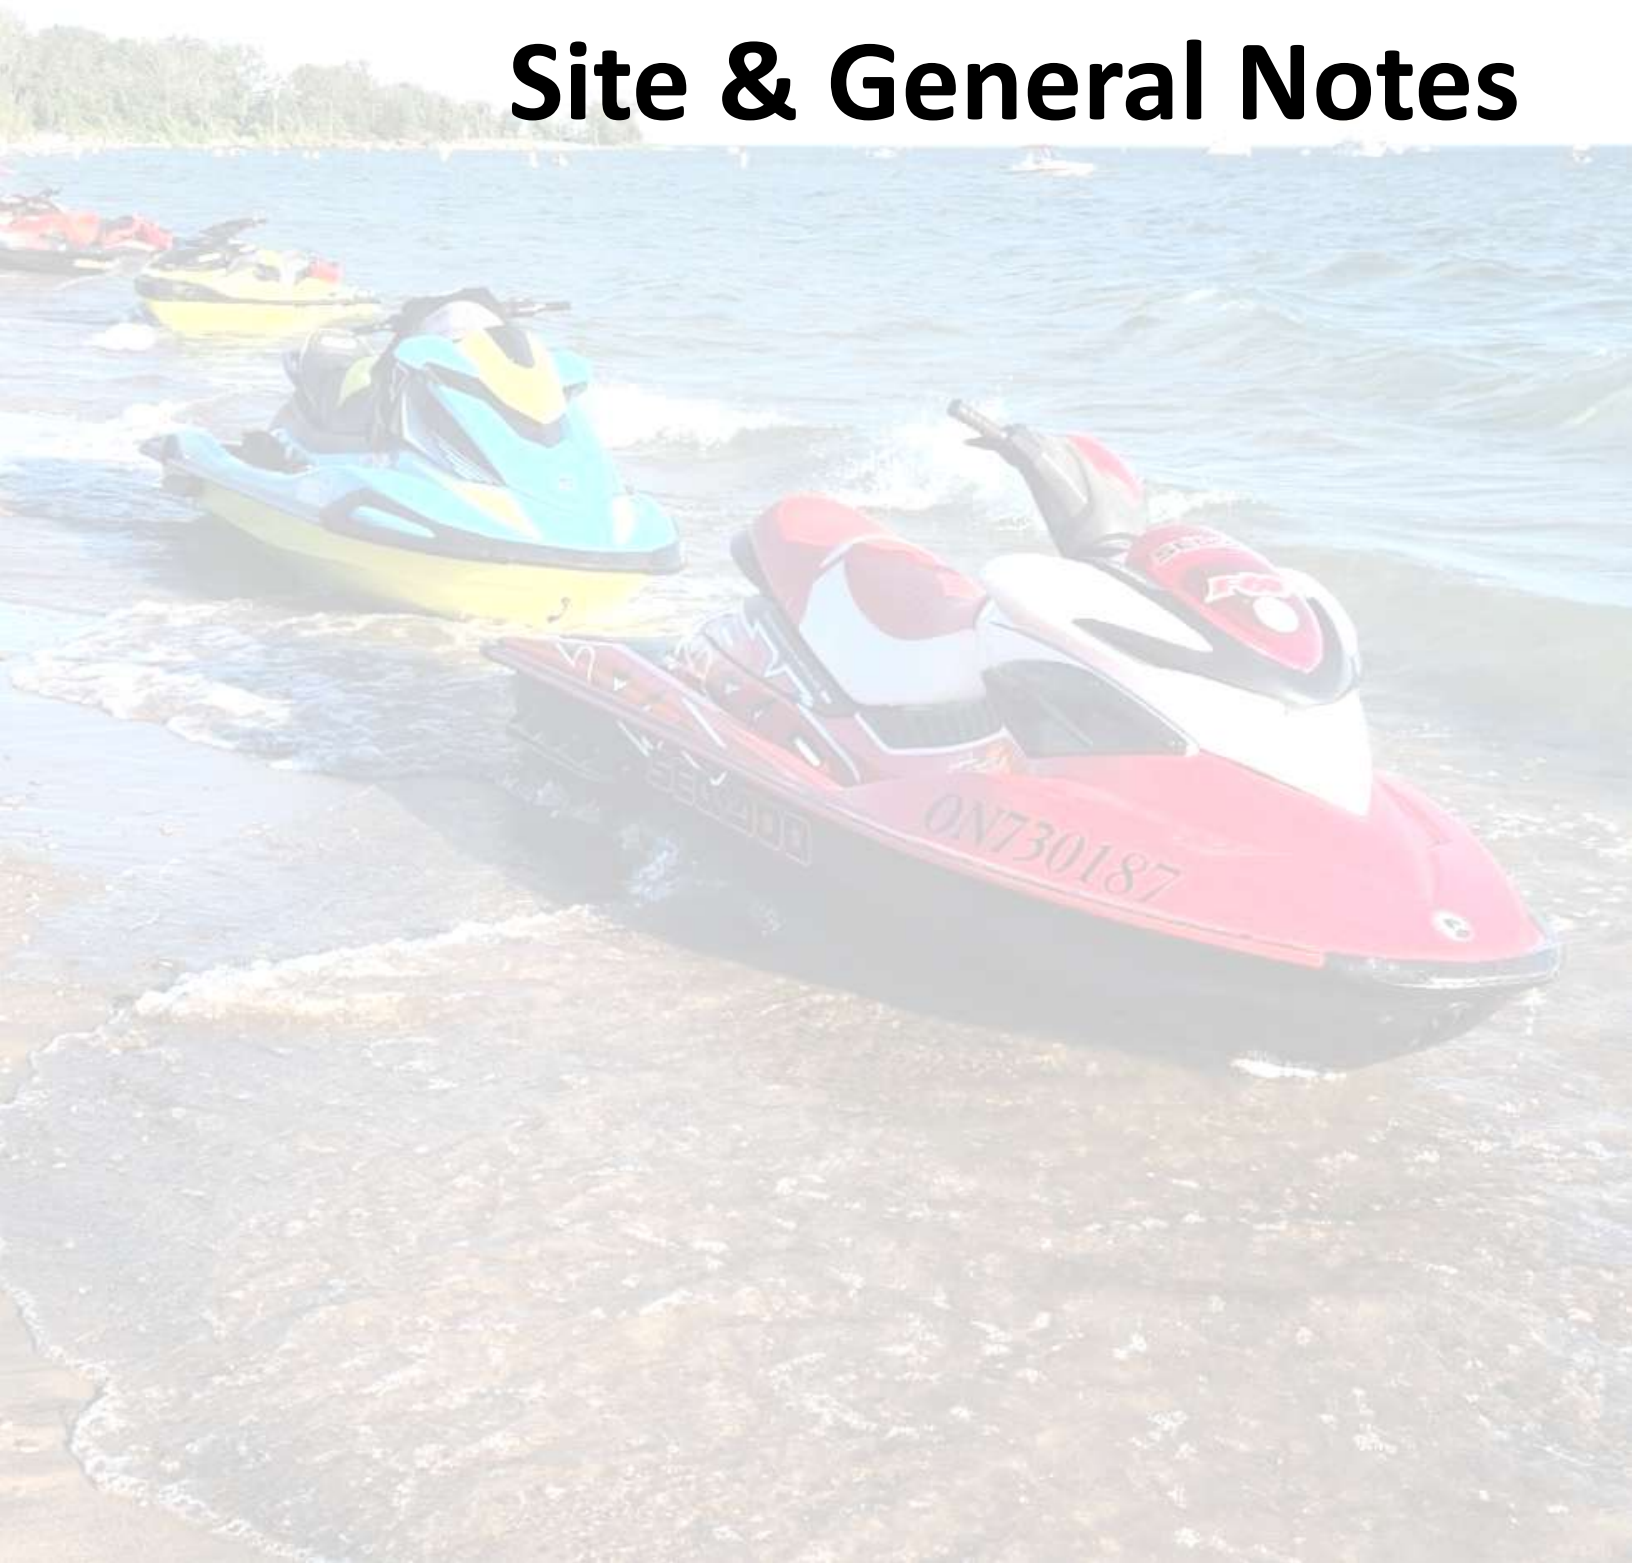

While the announcement of the Motorized Watercraft Exclusion Zone (MWEZ) at Hanlan's Point Beach was welcomed by this group, their excitement is tempered by a critical concern: the effectiveness of the MWEZ relies entirely on active and consistent enforcement. Without it, the exclusion zone risks becoming a symbolic gesture rather than a meaningful safeguard.

In response, this group has formed an informal volunteer collective known as the Hanlan's MWEZ Community Watch. Its mission is to observe and document activity within the exclusion zone, advocate for proper enforcement, and help protect the safety and character of Hanlan's Point Beach for all users.

Site & General Notes

Site

This report includes observations at Hanlan's Point Beach based on the following maps showing the extents of the Motorized Watercraft Exclusion Zone (MWEZ) and showing the geography with the designations for the two areas of the beach – North Beach and South Beach. Maps referenced are screenshots from Friends of Hanlan's.

Signage

Signage

At Hanlan's Point Beach, there are currently at least two existing signs located at the north and south ends of North Beach that display outdated information regarding watercraft zones and designated swimming areas. These signs reflect conditions prior to the implementation of the Motorized Watercraft Exclusion Zone (MWEZ) in June 2025 and do not align with the current regulatory framework.

The presence of these outdated signs has created confusion among both beachgoers and watercraft operators. Beach users who are aware of the updated MWEZ regulations have reported instances where they attempted to inform watercraft operators of the new rules, only to be met with hostility or threats. This confusion and resulting conflict present a growing safety concern and hinder the effective communication of current beach-use policies.

Recommended Actions

To address the issues associated with the existing signage, the following actions are recommended:

- Remove all outdated signage that no longer reflects current watercraft regulations or the MWEZ boundaries
- Install updated signage in prominent locations that clearly communicates the current rules and designated zones

Signage Content Recommendations

New signage should include clear and accessible information covering:

- The types of watercraft subject to the MWEZ
- Visuals and descriptions of the buoy markers that define the exclusion zone
- A map showing the full extent of the MWEZ around Hanlan's Point Beach
- A hotline number or reporting method for beachgoers to report unauthorized watercraft activity within the exclusion zone

- Not present or no observations taken

Wednesday July 16th, 2025

- Around 4:19pm, a jet-ski (PCL# ON5577529) enters south end of North Beach and then anchored near the shore. Beachgoer approached and educated them that they must be 200m out from the shore. Jet-skier ignored the information and did not agree to move. Jet-skier claimed he is allowed to be here to enjoy his day and then he sat on his jet-ski the entire time.

- Around 7:32pm, 3 jet-skis (PCL# ON9597028, ON9594325, & other) enter south end of North Beach and then anchored near the shore.

- Around 7:46pm, 2 jet-skis enter north end of North Beach and then float near swim zone.

Thursday July 17th, 2025

- Not present or no observations taken

Friday July 18th, 2025

- Around 12:09pm, a boat enters mid section of North Beach. Boat then enters swim zone. Lifeguards confront boat. Beachgoer approached and educated them that they must be 200m out from the shore. Boater ignored the information and only moved to the outside of swim zone edge and then anchored.

- Around 12:56pm, a boat enters mid section of North Beach and then anchored.

- Several jet-skis anchored on the shore just past the swim zone at the north end of North Beach.
- Around 3pm, a jet-ski enters South Beach and then anchored on the shore. It would be almost impossible for patrol to see it because it blends in with the fallen trees, etc.
- Around 4:24pm, a jet-ski enters mid section of North Beach and then floats close to swim zone edge.

- Around 5:20pm, patrol arrives. Patrol appears to confront jet-skis (assuming they informed owners to move). Patrol leaves, but jet-skis do not leave. Patrol does not confront boat from 12:56pm.
- Multiple jet-skis speed and cruise through exclusion zone throughout day.

- Around 6:25pm, a boat enters mid section of North Beach and then anchored. Eventually, a jet-ski joins boat.

- Several boats cruise through exclusion zone.
- Around 7:20pm, patrol arrives. Patrol confronts some boats. Patrol does not confront boats near north end of North Beach.

Saturday July 19th, 2025

- Around 11:30am, a boat (PCL# ON1813023) anchored within 80m of the shore at south end of North Beach. Beachgoer approached and educated them that they must be 200m out from the shore. Boater agreed to move.

- Since noon onwards, several jet-skis anchored on or near the shore just past the swim zone at the north end of North Beach.
- Multiple jet-skis speed and cruise through exclusion zone throughout day.
- Around 1pm, a dinghy with motor enters mid section of North Beach and then parked on the shore within swim zone. Beachgoer approached and educated them that they must be 200m out from the shore. Boater used every excuse not to move. No gas, was paddling, etc. Boater ignored the information and did not agree to move. Lifeguards do not confront jet-ski since it is just south of lifeguard flags.

- Around 6:40pm, patrol arrives which appears to be first patrol of the day. It was too late to patrol any jet-skis at north end of North Beach (as most have now left). Patrol also does not confront dinghy from 1pm in swim zone.

Sunday July 20th, 2025

- Around 12:49pm, dinghy with motor from July 19th still tied to sailboat. Dinghy cruises north indicating that the boater lied yesterday that it had no gas. Dinghy returns again and then parked on the shore just past the swim zone at the north end of North Beach.
- Around 1:36pm, several jet-skis anchored on or near the shore just past the swim zone at the north end of North Beach.
- Around 2:18pm, patrol arrives. Patrol does not confront dinghy or jet-skis just past the swim zone at the north end of North Beach.
- Around 2:50pm, 4 jet-skis speed and cruise close to swim zone edge, even near lifeguard area. Lifeguards do not confront jet-skis. This speeding and cruising continued throughout day by many other jet-skis.

- Around 4:04pm, a boat enters south end of North Beach and then floats. Another similar boat is seen at north end of North Beach.

- Around 5:03pm, a jet-ski (PCL# ON8750844) anchored near the shore between North Beach and South Beach. Beachgoer approached and educated them that they must be 200m out from the shore. Jet-skier became aggressive and threatening. Jet-skier ignored the information and did not agree to move. Shortly afterwards, another jet-ski anchored very close to this first jet-ski. Jet-skis attract more jet-skis!

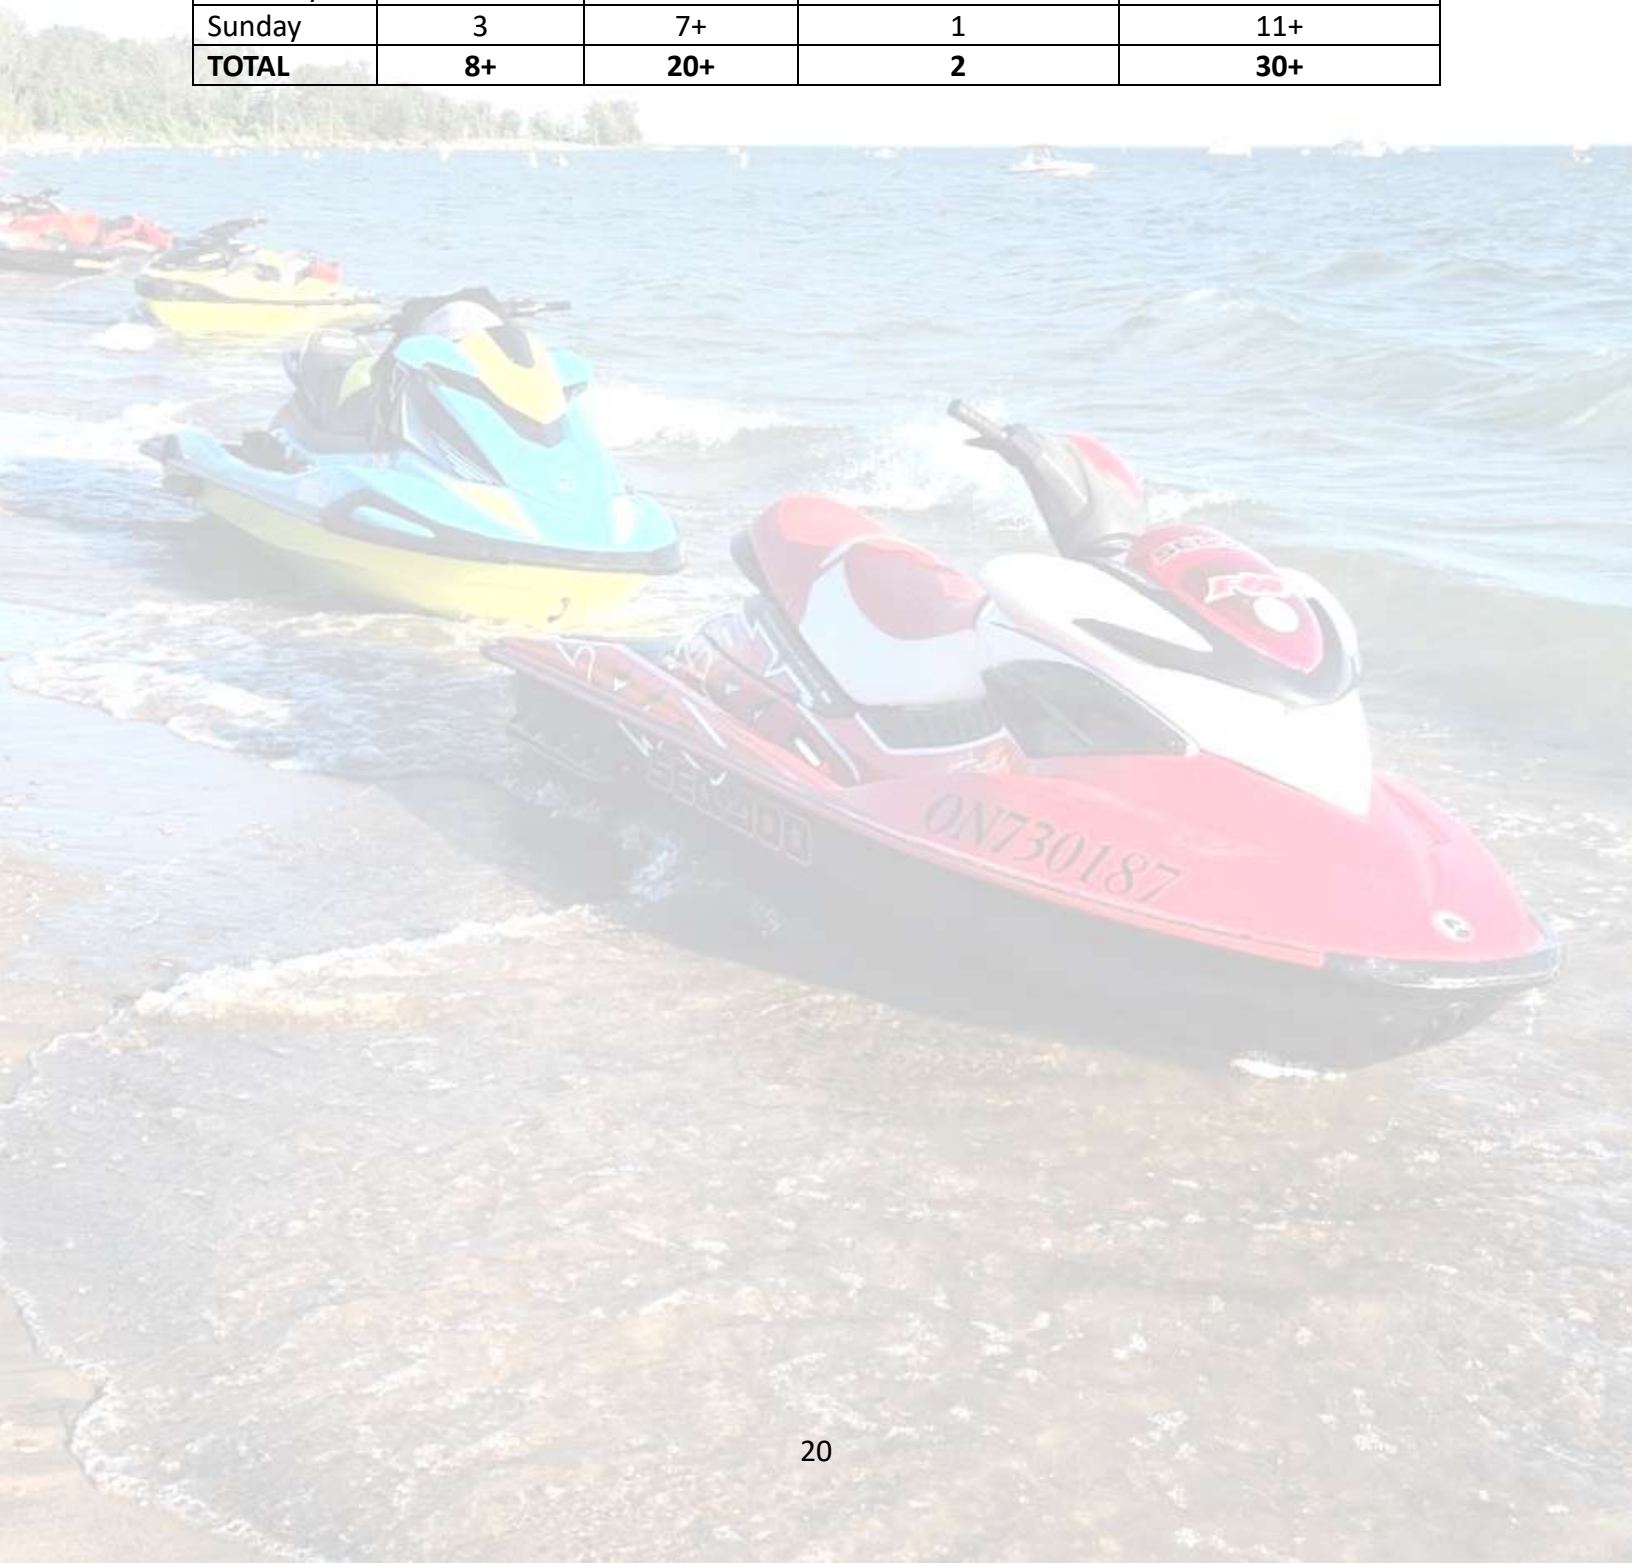

- Around 6:20pm, beachgoer attempted to inform patrol about 2 noted jet-skis from 5:03pm, but patrol was pulling a sinking small catamaran.
- Around 8:01pm, a boat enters mid section of North Beach and then floats.

Observations Summary

Observations Summary

Since the implementation of the Motorized Watercraft Exclusion Zone (MWEZ), the following trends and observations have been recorded.

Compliance & Enforcement

- Boats & Sailboats:
 - Large portion now compliant with MWEZ regulations
 - However, a notable portion remains non-compliant
 - These are the most frequently approached or confronted by patrol when present
- Jet-skis:
 - Most consistently non-compliant with MWEZ regulations
 - They are rarely or never approached or confronted by patrol, despite repeated infractions
 - Significant enforcement gap identified
- Dinghies & Tiny Sailboats with Motors:
 - Commonly attempt to bypass MWEZ regulations by mimicking compliance (e.g., paddling or sailing in exclusion zone)
 - Like jet-skis, they are rarely or never approached or confronted by patrol
 - Behavior indicates intentional circumvention of regulations
- Lifeguard Enforcement in Swim Zone:
 - Active enforcement within red/yellow flagged swim zone
 - No observed enforcement beyond flagged area, even with swimmers present
 - Creates safety vulnerability and allows undeterred intrusions by watercraft

Movement & Circulation Patterns

- Jet-skis often use the exclusion zone as a north-south speeding or cruising track
- Jet-skis use north end of North Beach for stunts and speeding
- Many watercraft treat zone as a "shortcut" to traverse quickly from one end to the other
- Wide spacing and lack of boundary markers lead to both accidental and deliberate zone intrusions
- Notable increase in the use of the zone for passenger transport to/from shore and a rise in jet-ski pleasure rides offered to beachgoers, especially in the later part of the season

Noise Pollution

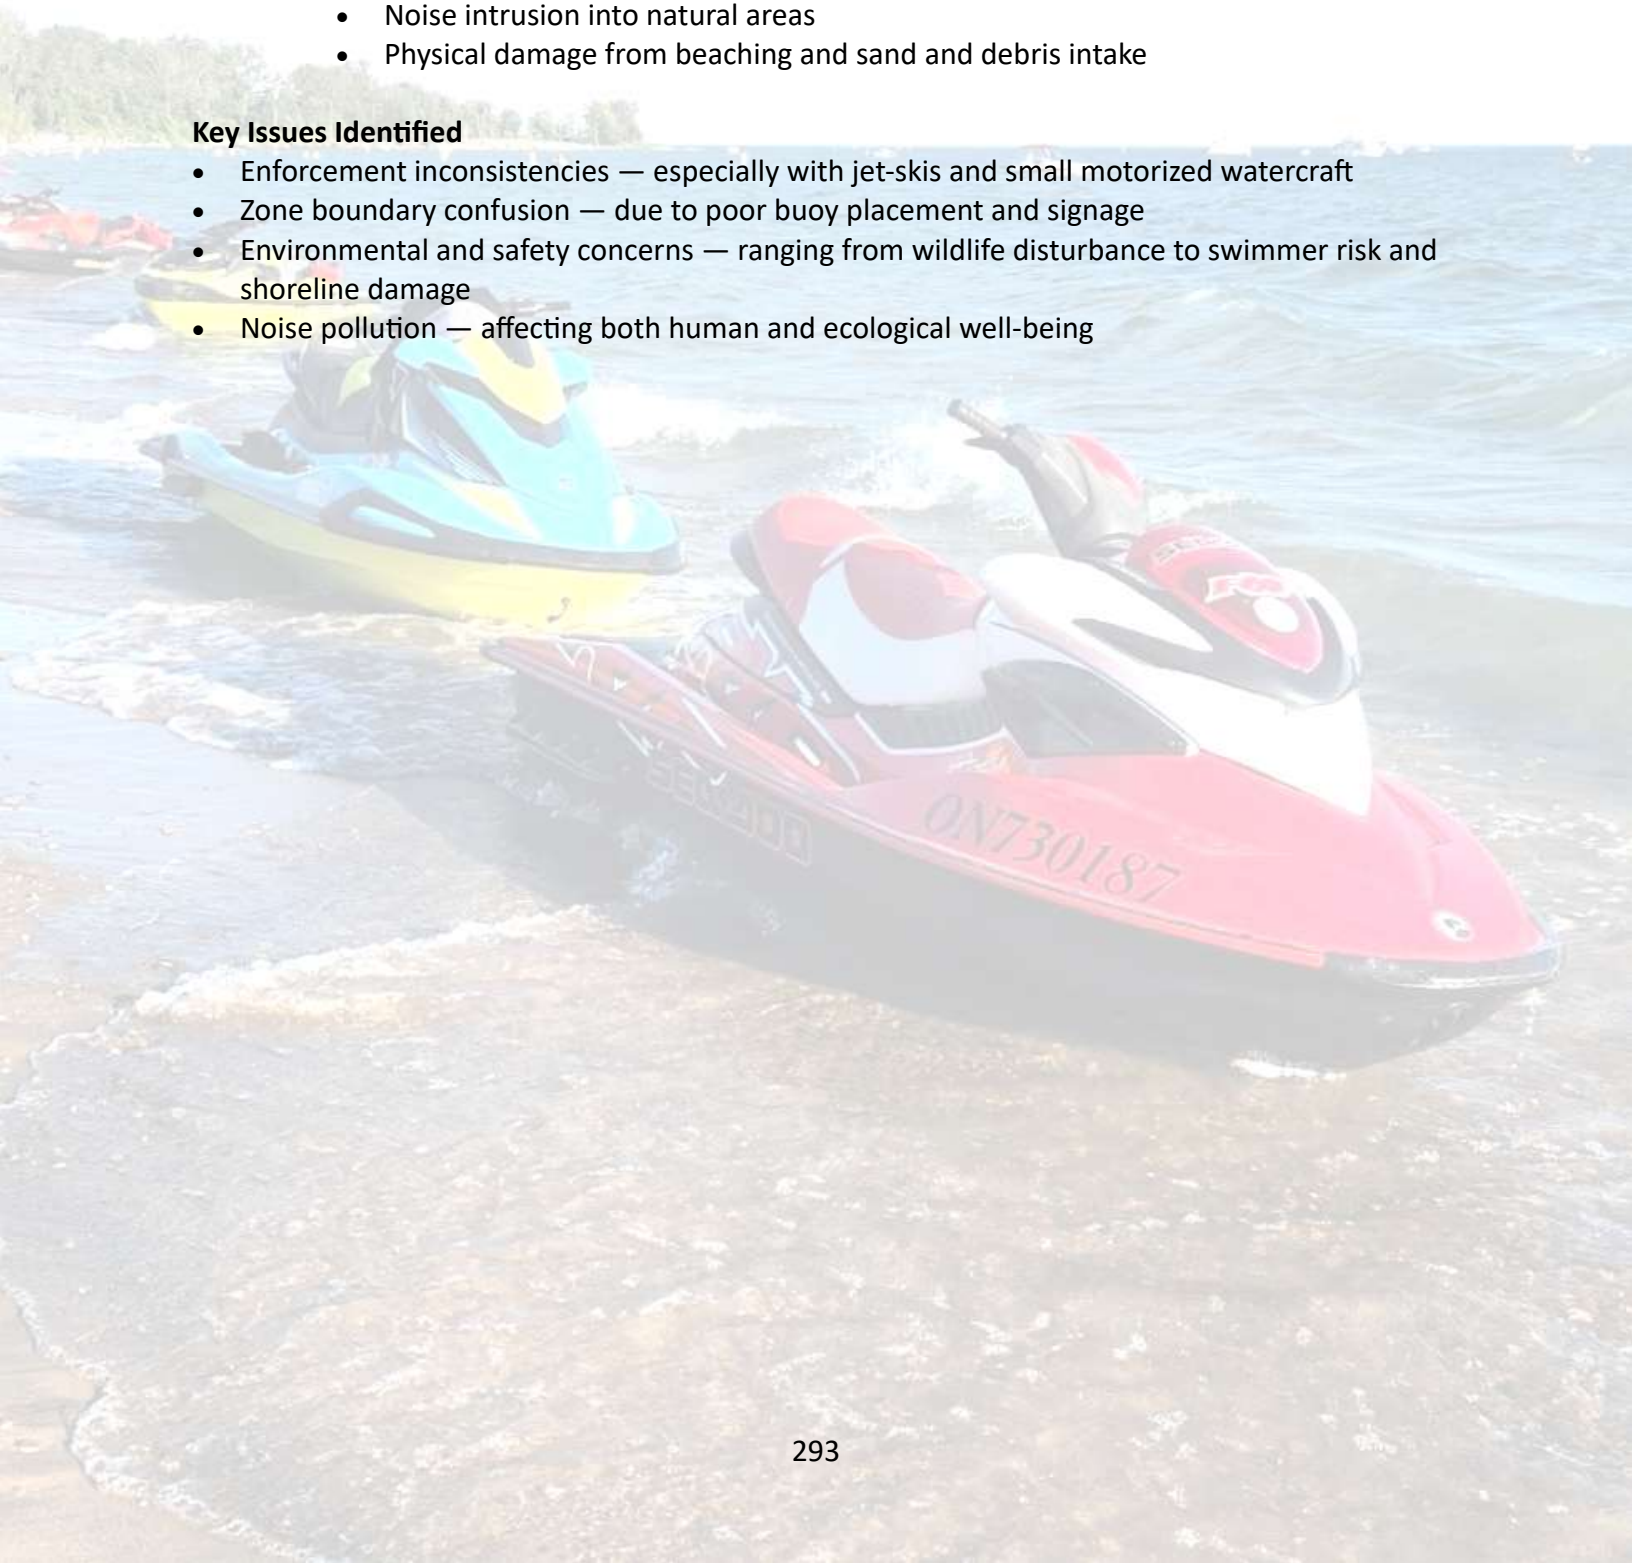

- Jet-skis are the primary source of disruptive noise
- Can emit up to 115 decibels — loud, fluctuating, and far-reaching
- Wave jumping and erratic patterns amplify acoustic disruption
- Impacts include:
 - Interference with marine species' communication and navigation
 - Stress and potential hearing damage in wildlife
 - Reduced quality of experience for beachgoers and waterfront visitors
 - Especially irritating "whomp" sound during water re-entry

Shoreline Harm

- Jet-skis and dinghies with motors are the main contributors to shoreline activity
- Most affected areas:
 - North end of North Beach (just beyond swim zone)
 - South end of North Beach (to a lesser extent)
- Impacts include:
 - Accelerated erosion from wakes
 - Disturbance of wildlife and habitats
 - Pollution from fuel and emissions
 - Noise intrusion into natural areas
 - Physical damage from beaching and sand and debris intake

Key Issues Identified

- Enforcement inconsistencies — especially with jet-skis and small motorized watercraft
- Zone boundary confusion — due to poor buoy placement and signage
- Environmental and safety concerns — ranging from wildlife disturbance to swimmer risk and shoreline damage
- Noise pollution — affecting both human and ecological well-being
