I urge the City of Toronto to pedestrianize Church Street this summer and treat it as a pilot to inform the creation of a pedestrianization policy for seasonal and permanent major road closures.

For decades, The Village has served as a global sanctuary of liberation, a vibrant cultural hub and the beating heart of Toronto's 2SLGBTQ+ community. With the help and advocacy of Councillor Moise's Office and the Church-Wellesley Village BIA, we are calling on the City of Toronto to pursue a bold vision for a pedestrian-first Church Street pilot project this summer. This initiative is an affirmation of the Village's identity. By

This summer, the Church Wellesley Village BIA is piloting the pedestrianization of Church Street – and we want Toronto to know the community is behind it. By signing this petition, you're telling the City of Toronto that residents, visitors, and businesses support making Church Street a permanent, vibrant, people-first space.

The Experience the Village pilot is a powerful proof of concept, but lasting change requires community voice. City decisions about street design are influenced by demonstrated public support. Your signature – alongside hundreds of others – sends a clear message: the Village wants open streets, and it's ready for them.

Whether you live in the Village, shop at businesses in the Village, celebrate Pride here every year, or simply believe that Toronto needs more walkable, human-scale neighbourhoods – your name matters.
