Please publish this email. I am very concerned about the Zoological Tactical Firearms. While I am pleased to see chemical restraint training is used, the use of bullets is cruel and unnecessary with animal behaviour training, safer enclosures, and deescalation. I stopped going to zoos 10 years ago after Harambe was shot dead on May 28 2016. I hope you never use the guns for "euthanasia" of animals at the zoo, nor for destruction of animals during an incident. I am very concerned about the 15 animal actions incidents. Please switch to non lethal humane safety instead. Nicole Corrado
