Useful information

- Images are created as TIFF files at a high resolution – typically 600 dpi for an 8” x 10” photograph.
- It may not always be possible to reproduce very fragile material.
- If you wish to publish archival material or reproduce it further, please fill out the Image Permission Request form available on our website.
- Purchasing a reproduction of a record does not transfer copyright to the purchaser.
- Unless you are using custom colour management profiles with compliant software applications such as Adobe Photoshop, colours displayed on your monitor may appear different from the original image.
- The Archives uses high-quality inkjet papers and inks. Temperature, humidity and lighting conditions can cause prints to fade or change colours. Manufacturers of inkjet products will not guarantee the longevity of prints. Therefore, the Archives cannot guarantee that its prints will not fade or change colours.
- Each digital reproduction will include the entire image plus any border and any descriptive text that was added to the image.
- For questions regarding your order, please call the Research Hall at (416) 397-0778.
