Yonge Street is the central transportation corridor and pedestrian promenade within North York Centre, one of four centres in the City focused on transit-based employment and residential growth. Inconsistent urban features, from sidewalks, crossings, and medians, to the lack of dedicated cycling facilities present challenges. The City of Toronto is carrying out a study that will evaluate opportunities to improve the streetscape and public realm along Yonge Street from Sheppard Avenue to Finch Avenue.

We invite you to attend the third and final Public Open House to learn about the study and review the preferred design option for Yonge Street. Staff will be available to answer your questions and receive your comments.

Design Options to Transform Yonge Street
After receiving comments from the public and completing a detailed assessment of the design options, the project team is recommending a combination of the “Transform” design options, shown on the back of this notice and in greater detail on the project webpage. This means a full reconstruction of Yonge Street within the City’s existing right-of-way. At the second Public Open House these design options were presented and considered the following elements:

- Wider sidewalks
- Options for parking
- Enhanced pedestrian crossings
- Planters, public art and street furniture
- Street trees
- Dedicated cycling facilities
- Number of traffic lanes
We would like to hear from you:

If you have questions, please contact us. If you are unable to attend the Public Open House, you will be able to view the materials online, fill out a comment form, and submit feedback until October 13, 2016.
