MIDTOWN

Transportation Assessment

A Transportation Assessment of the Yonge-Eglinton area is being completed as part of the Midtown in Focus study.
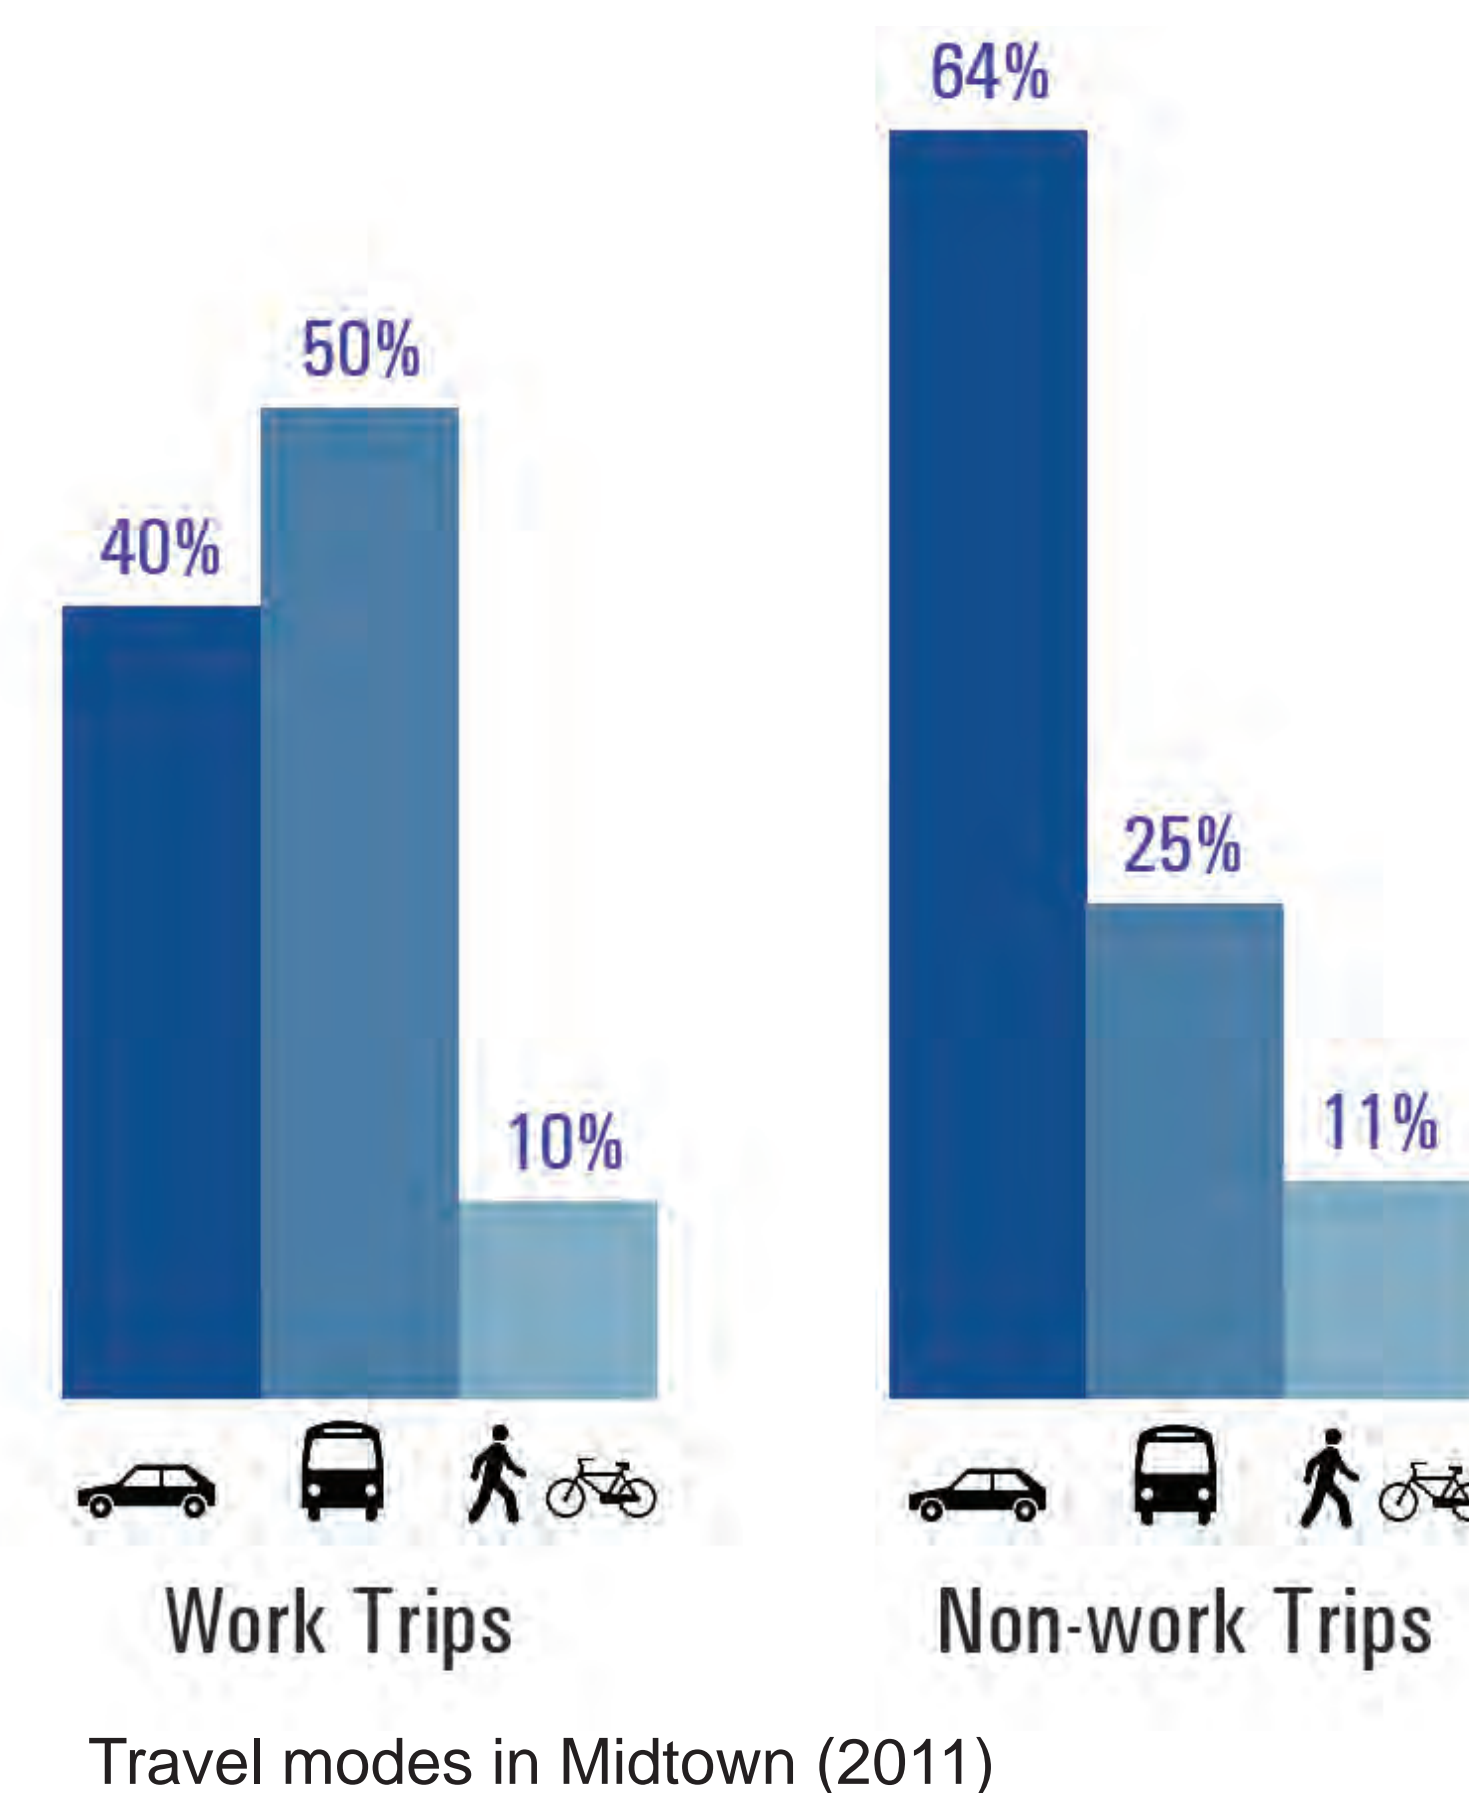

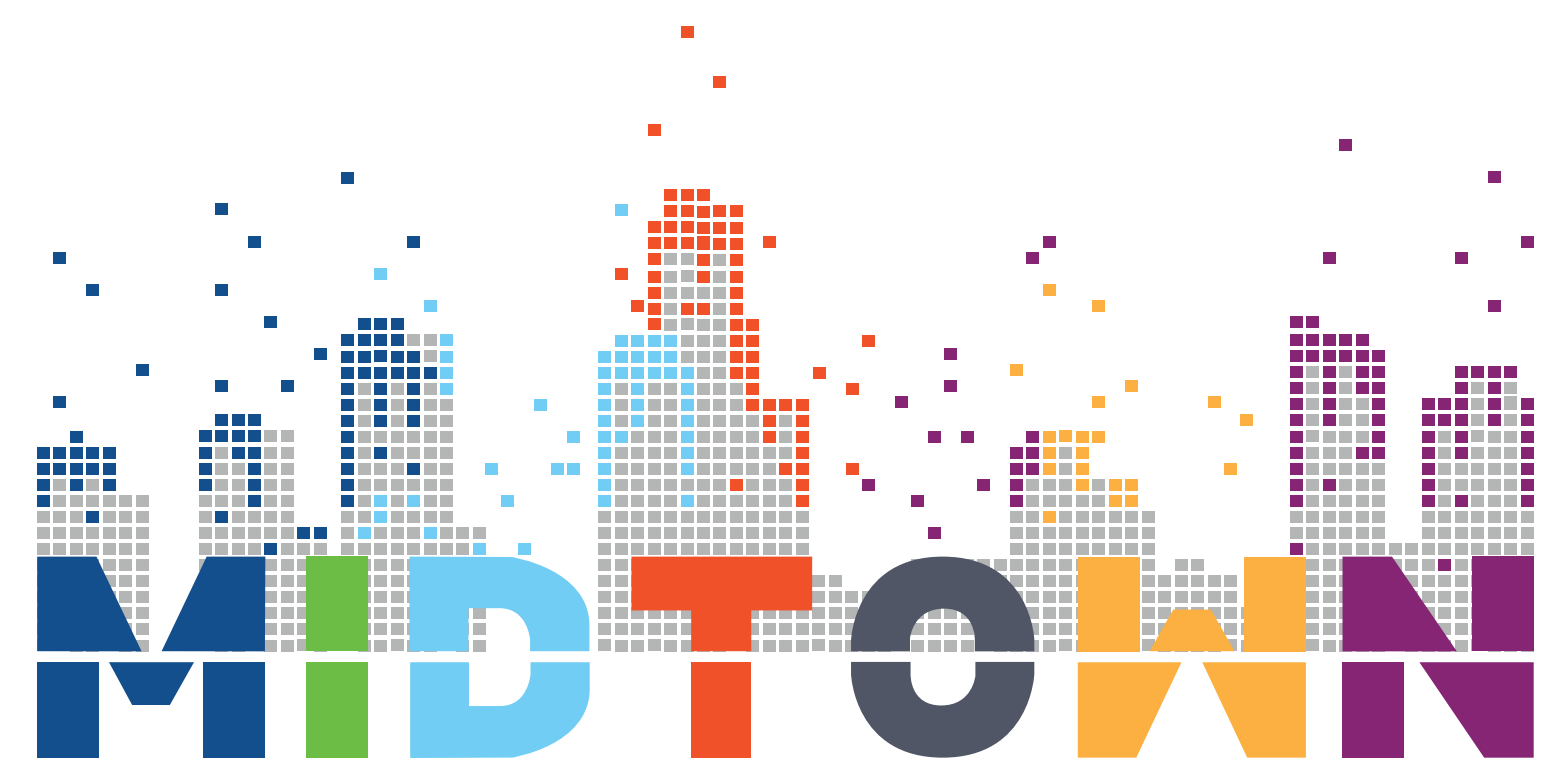

The Assessment will:

- Document existing conditions for all transportation modes;
- Conduct a travel survey to assess existing travel behaviour patterns of residents and employees in the area;
- Identify focus areas (e.g. key intersections, street segments) based on the background review and growth analysis;
- Evaluate trends, constraints and opportunities of all transportation modes for each identified focus area;
- Identify key issues and opportunities that take into account anticipated growth, demographic, behavioural, and technological changes and the need for a shift towards active/sustainable transportation; and,
- Support updates to the City's cycling plan and align with regional transit planning initiatives.

Pedestrian crossing Yonge-Eglinton intersection

Travel modes in Midtown (2011)

WE ARE HERE

Information Gathering + Analysis	Focus Area Identification	Issues and Opportunities
• Background review • Summary of existing conditions • Integration of growth estimates • Multimodal forecast and analysis	• Identify focus areas • Evaluation of focus areas	• Identify and document issues and opportunities in each focus area • Finalize Issues and Opportunities statements

TORONTO

![Midtown logo]

TRANSPORTATION

Help us learn how you move in Midtown

New parking should be below-grade

There are no cycling connections to downtown

With more people moving to the area, wider sidewalks and accessible crossings are needed to improve safety

Transit crowding is a problem, particularly for seniors

Bike lanes and more places to lock/store bikes would be great

Some streets, like Davisville, should be "community streets" that are slower with room for all modes

1. Think about how you move through the area (walking, biking, transit, driving, car passenger)

2. Grab a sticky note and write down where things are working well and where they could be improved

Legend:

- Yonge- Eglinton Secondary Plan Area
- Yonge - Eglinton Centre
- Parks & Open Space
- ● TTC Rail Stations
- —— Subway
- —— Bike Lanes
- —— Signed Routes
- —— Multi-use Pathway

Planned Facilities (Eglinton Connects)
- ● Future LRT Stations
- ▬ ▬ Planned Cycletracks/Bike Lanes

ONLINE TRAVEL SURVEY
Be sure to visit the Midtown in Focus website to fill out a short transportation survey in June and July!
www.toronto.ca/planning/yongeeglinton

[TORONTO]