

Jane Jacobs' Annex: A Guided Audio Walking Tour

The Annex is one of Toronto's most storied neighbourhoods. Its treelined streets have inspired writers and artists, its old houses have watched as wave after wave of immigrants from all over the world passed through and over the decades, generations of people have loved to both live in the Annex and visit it.

One of the Annex's most famous residents was urban thinker and writer Jane Jacobs. Jacobs moved to the neighbourhood in 1968 from New York City and stayed until her death in 2006.

Jacobs was the author of five books, including The Death and Life of Great American Cities that would forever change the way people think about cities. This walking tour will introduce you to some of Jane Jacobs' ideas through the story of the Annex.

X. Tour begins: Bloor St and Spadina Rd, NW corner by subway doors

1: Lowther Ave and Spadina Rd

2: Traffic circle, Lowther and Walmer Rd, aka Gwendolyn MacEwan Park

3: Lowther Ave and Dalton Rd

4: Brunswick Ave and Lowther Ave

5: Barton Ave and Brunswick Ave, Loretto College Condominium

6: Howland Ave and Barton Ave

7: Saint Albans Square

8: Albany Ave end of Saint Albans Square

9: 69 Albany Ave, the house where Jane Jacobs lived

10: Bloor St and Albany Ave

Produced by Sarah Elton

Featuring the voices of Sarah Elton, Max Allen, Bobbi Speck, Amanda McConnell, Katherine Govier, Katherine Gildner, Jack Batten, students at the University of Toronto Schools and Jane Jacobs herself.

This audio walking tour is free to the general public and can be downloaded and listened to at any time. It is not for commercial use or re-broadcast in any form.

This audio walking tour is a collaboration between the City of Toronto – Office of the Public Realm, CBC/Radio Canada and Jane's Walk.

info@janeswalk.net / 416-642-5779