* All Sign Types and Sign Copy Types are defined in City of Toronto Municipal Code Chapter 771, Taxation, Third Party Sign Tax, and/or in City of Toronto Municipal Code Chapter 694, Signs, General.

Every Owner, as defined by the City of Toronto Municipal Code Chapter 771, Taxation, Third Party Sign Tax (the "By-law") has an obligation under the By-law to provide certain information as required by section 771-10 of the By-law to the City in a form and manner approved by the City. Such information must be provided to the City no later than March 31, 2010 for the 2010 taxation year and January 31 for all other tax years. Failure to provide the information, and the making of false or deceptive statements are continuing offences under the by-law punishable upon conviction by a fine each day the failure to provide the information continues, to maximum total fine of $5000 per offence. In addition, the city may assess a penalty from $120 to a maximum of double the tax payable for failure to provide the requisite information.

The City is not bound by any information provided by an Owner, and may assess the Third Party Sign Tax notwithstanding any information so provided. The City may use any information provided by the Owner for any purpose, including but not limited to enforcement under the City of Toronto Municipal Code Chapter 694, Signs, General, and any applicable sign by-law of the City of Toronto.

Pursuant to the By-law, the City has the right to serve any person with written demand for information or documentation for any purpose related to the administration or enforcement of the By-law as may be necessary to determine compliance with the By-law, and has the right to enter into premises for the purpose of auditing and inspection books and records as may relate to amounts payable under the by-law.
