

STOP 9 – THE WASHROOM

In 1899, all the plumbing fixtures were put through very careful sanitary tests by the architect to test the strength of the materials and working qualities. Only those of the highest class were selected. All the piping and fittings were extra heavy weight.

All partitions and linings in the lavatories were constructed of marble and supported on metal legs. The wood floor was replaced with a wonderful pattern of blue tiles, while the floor of the ladies' washrooms was done in red tile.

Bennet and Wright Co. Ltd installed the plumbing, heating, ventilating gas fittings and electric light wiring for grand total of $28,706.33.
